John D. Murphy is pursuing his PhD in IT in the College of Information Science and Technology at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. His primary research interest is collaboration in both traditional face-to-face and virtual teams, with special focus on theory-driven development of collaborative systems that advance theories of group productivity, satisfaction, and ideation. His other research areas include interdisciplinary collaboration and IT adoption.

Deepak Khazanchi is the Associate Dean and Professor in College of Information Science & Technology at the University of Nebraska in Omaha. Some of his current research interests include virtual project management, virtual teams, and B2B assurance services. His research has been published in journals such as AJB, DSS, Information Systems Management, ACM's DATA BASE for Advances in Information Systems, and Information Processing and Management.
