The screenshot shows the homepage of the Winona State University Darrell W. Krueger Library. At the top, there is a navigation bar with icons and links for Databases, Other Resources, Services, and About the Library. Below this, a green box on the left contains the text "Need help finding information?". To the right of this box is the library's logo, which features a stylized 'W' with a flame above it, followed by the text "Winona State University" and "Darrell W. Krueger Library".

Below the logo, there is a red banner with three links: "Update on Library Services", "Where to Start: Research Guide", and "Need to access the databases from the dorms or off-campus?".

The main content area is organized into sections with icons:

- Databases: Includes links for MnPALS Library Catalog, Lexis - Nexis, Academic Search, Winona (marked NEW), WSU Databases, and Library Catalogs.
- Other Resources: Includes links for Reference, WSU Periodicals, Government Links, Video Collection (marked NEW), Internet Links by Subject, Yahoo, Google, and More.
- Services: Includes links for Inter-Library Loan, RefWorks, Renewals, Info Gallery, Remote Access, Distance Services, and More.
- About the Library: Includes links for Athenaeum, Recent Acquisitions, Librarians, Contacts, Hours, Maps, Course Pages, and More.

At the bottom of the page, there is a gray bar with four links: "Library Home", "W.S.U. Home", "Blackboard Desire2Learn", and "Ask A Librarian". Below this bar, a blue box displays the number "1467505" next to a small icon, with the text "FastCounter by bCentral" underneath.

About Darrell W. Krueger

Located less than a mile from the Mississippi River in Winona, Minnesota, Darrell W. Krueger Library is a part of Winona State University. The Krueger Library is a resource for the Winona Community, and the greater south central region.

Construction on the building was completed in the academic year of 1999-2000. Winona State University held a dedication ceremony on September 17, 2000, and President Darrell W. Krueger on April 29, 2001.

The Krueger Library has over 479,855 print volumes and 100 databases and is a U.S. Federal Depository for government resources in paper and 100,000 electronic documents.

The Darrell W. Krueger Library is an excellent place for researching, studying, and group work. It has a great collection of scholarly materials – articles, books, and more. If the library doesn't have what you need, we can help you find it.

If you need help getting started with your research, the Reference Desk and a librarian will be there to assist you.
