QUICK FACTS

about South Omaha*

Produced by the Office of Latino/Latin American Studies (OLLAS), University of Nebraska at Omaha, April 2014

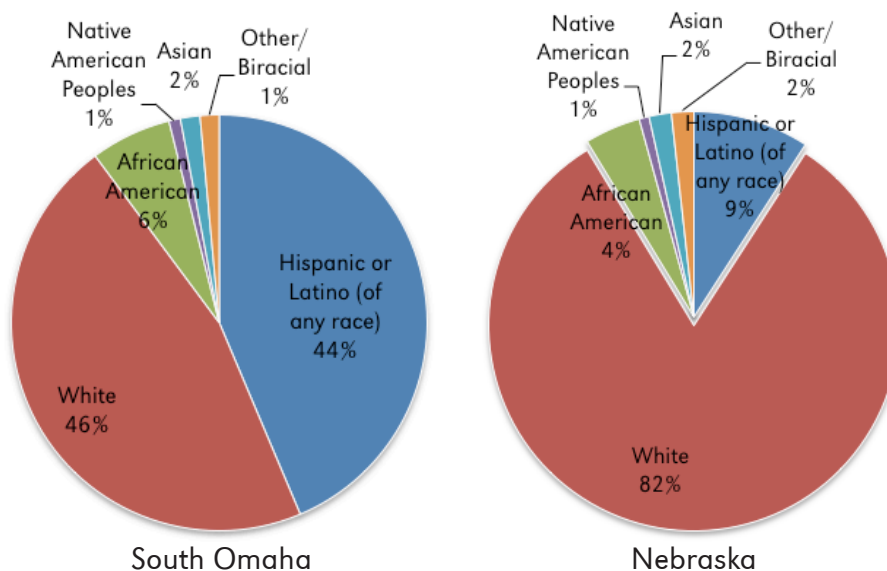

With 67,310 residents in 2012, South Omaha represents 9% of the Metropolitan Omaha-Council Bluffs' population. This area of town is characterized by its young population. One third of its residents are 17 years or younger. The highest share of its population is composed by people in their twenties or early thirties.

South Omaha is home to a racially- and ethnically-diverse population. Its racial-ethnic composition shows a higher level of diversity than that of Nebraska as a whole. The predominant ethnic groups are Whites and Hispanics. The 29,368 Latinos living in South Omaha account for half of the total Hispanic population in the city of Omaha.

* South Omaha consists of three zip codes: 68105, 68107 and 68108. Altogether these zip codes are bordered to the north by Vinton Street, to the South by Harrison Street, to the east by the Missouri River, and to the west by 42nd Street. All the information in this handout is based on U.S. Census Bureau 2008-2012 American Community Survey (ACS) zip code estimates available through American Fact Finder.

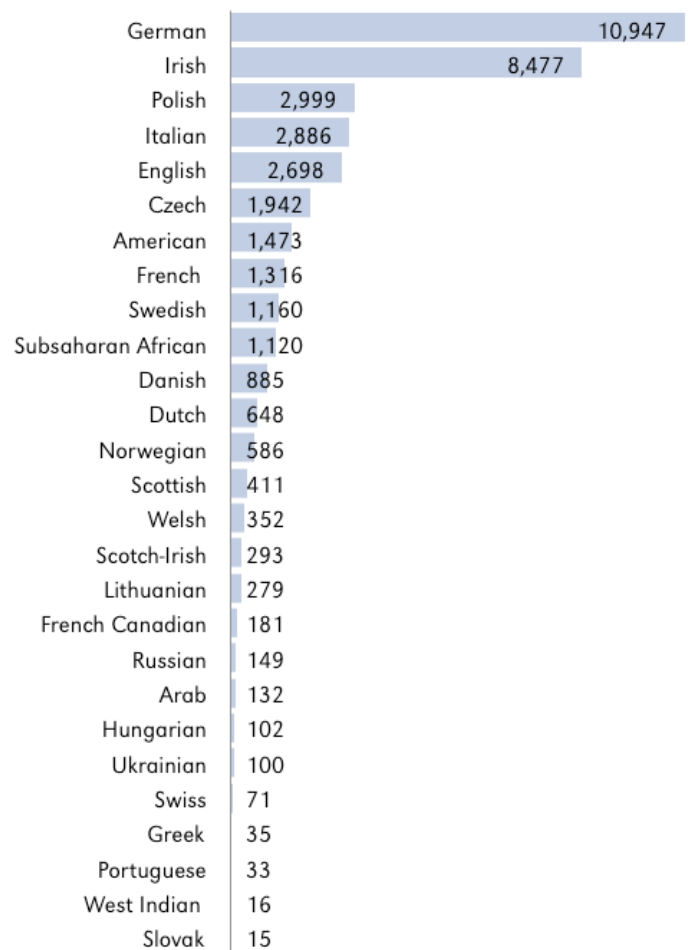

South Omaha was, and still is, an important immigrant community. Most of its native population is of immigrant European descent. The most common ancestries are German, Irish, Polish, and Italian. In the last decades, immigrant families from Latin America make up the largest share of the foreign-born residents in this area.
