- Nebraska's population is consolidating into its urban areas, and more quickly than neighboring states
- Nebraska's population changes are largely influenced by the baby boom, its echo, and now the third wave of children (grandchildren to baby boomers)
- "Older men" are a fast growing population segment
- Nebraska's population growth is driven by increases among minorities and all age groups are becoming increasingly minority
- Migration is largely driven by economic conditions
- Nebraskans are becoming more educated and are generally here to work, often leaving in retirement

The Mexican-American Boom: Births Overtake Immigration

July 14, 2011

Births have overtaken immigration as the main driver of the dynamic growth in the U.S. Hispanic population. This new trend is especially evident among the largest of all Hispanic groups --Mexican-Americans, ${ }_{-}^{1}$ according to a new analysis of U.S. Census Bureau data by the Pew Hispanic Center, a project of the Pew Research Center.

In the decade from 2000 to 2010, the MexicanAmerican population grew by 7.2 million as a result of births and 4.2 million as a result of new immigrant arrivals. This is a change from the previous two decades when the number of new immigrants either matched or exceeded the number of births.

Decade Percentage Change in the Nebraska Population Age 65 and Older: 1950 to 2030

- How do we meet the challenges of an ever-increasing older population?
- More racially diverse than in the past; the older population has substantially different characteristics versus all of NE
- What will happen if baby boomers nearing retirement move out of state per the past trends?
- Nebraska is in high danger of losing a Congressional seat in 2020; if boomers leave who will be left in many rural areas?
- It's easier to try to keep people in the local area than to entice them to move back once they've moved away
- What incentives/positive attributes exist for staying here?
- How does the recession/recovery affect people's decisions (work, savings, travel, family, etc.)?
