2. Guest: Dr. Timothy Angle, Assistant Provost, University of Mississippi

- Discussion of UM's structure for summer sessions and outreach
 - May session has become very popular with 2-week session and overall summer enrollments have reached 56% of fall/spring enrollments
 - Summer session enrollments run in the black approximately $4 million
 - Majority of students are UM students and the university has not seen a negative impact on spring/fall enrollments.
 - Discussion of the various types of outreach programs sponsored by UM—summer academies, camps and academic competition
 - Description of “jump start” programs, which have demonstrated great retention and graduation success
 - For study-abroad programs, intersessions seem to be the best fit and are most appealing for faculty.
 - Content area workshops for K-12 teachers have also been somewhat successful.
- Request by SVC Hynes to inventory summer programs by next Deans' Forum meeting and to have a discussion about summer sessions on Dec. 16th.
