Geneva Disarm Talks Open Today
Reasonable Atmosphere at Big-3 Meetings

GENEVA, Mar. 14—The biggest Geneva Disarmament Conference for five years opened in Geneva this afternoon.

Talks will be held here by the seven powers, the United States, Great Britain, France, the Soviet Union, China, the United Nations and Brazil.

The American mission is headed by Assistant Secretary of State William J. Donovan. His associates are diplomats, military experts and scientists from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Donovan, who has been in charge of U.S. war-time espionage, is said to be a realist and to insist on immediate agreement on a ban on atomic weapons.

Dr. J. W. Atkinson, Under-Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations, is to depart for the conference to-day.

GUATEMALA STUDENTS

DEMONSTRATE

TRISTAN D'UNIA

STILL ACTIVE

GUATEMALA CITY, Mar. 14 (AP)—Students yesterday again demonstrated in Gueatemala City for their demand of self-determination.

The demonstrators are demanding that the United States stop all aid to the Nationalists who are fighting the Communists in Spain.

The President, Juan Francisco Sosa, has been attacked for his handling of the situation.

The students are demanding that the government take steps to end the war and that the United States stop its aid to the Nationalists.

ALGERIA, Mar. 14 (UPI)—Arab and French arms struck at each other in stepped up terror and repression of Algerian citizens yesterday in a possible Prelude to mass violence when the expected condition is satisfied.

The Algerian army is under the command of General Houari Boumediene, who is also the Prime Minister of the Algerian government.

He is a close associate of President Mohammed Ben Bella and is considered to be a key figure in the national liberation movement.

Boumediene is said to be a tough and determined leader who has been successful in securing support from the Algerian people for the struggle against French colonial rule.

Despite the challenges faced by the Algerian people, they remain determined to achieve their goal of independence and freedom.

The Algerian government has been working tirelessly to negotiate a peaceful settlement with France, but the negotiations have been slow and difficult.

The situation in Algeria remains tense, and both sides continue to engage in military actions.

The Algerian government has been calling for international support to help them in their fight for independence.

The Algerian people are determined to hold their ground and continue the struggle until victory is achieved.

Nuristan -- A Picturesque Region in Afghanistan

Nuristan is a mountainous province in northeastern Afghanistan. It is known for its scenic landscapes and rich cultural heritage.

The province is home to the Nuristani people, who have a unique language and culture. The Nuristani language is one of the few remaining Indo-European languages.

The province is rich in natural resources, including forests, minerals, and water. It is also home to a variety of wildlife.

The province is located near the borders of Pakistan and Iran, and has been affected by conflicts in the region. Despite these challenges, the province remains a peaceful and beautiful region.

The province is known for its festivals, including the annual Nuristan Festival, which celebrates the culture and traditions of the Nuristani people.
