Geneva Talks

In his prepared statement, Ambassador Bass, the U.S. representative, said: "The United States has never had a better opportunity to demonstrate the benefits of its policies in the Middle East. We are determined to make the most of this opportunity." He added that the United States would continue to work closely with its allies to achieve a peaceful solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict.

New Constitution of Pakistan Criticized

In a criticism of the new constitution of Pakistan, S. A. Rahim, a Pakistani journalist, said: "The new constitution is a step in the right direction, but it does not go far enough. It fails to address the fundamental issues of national sovereignty and the protection of human rights."

AFGHANISTAN IN U.N. GEN. ASSEMBLY

The difference between the demands of the United States and the Soviet Union, according to Rahim, is a reflection of their different views on the role of the United Nations.

U.S.S.R. Develops Involuntary Global Rocket

Khrushchev Announces New Satellite Launching

MOSCOW, Mar. 15 (TASS) - Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced yesterday that the Soviet Union had launched a new satellite, Sputnik II, which was equipped with an "involuntary" rocket system. This new system, which is controlled by an artificial intelligence, would be able to launch a satellite into space and then destroy itself. The first test launch of this system was successful, and the satellite was placed in a stable orbit.

Influential with these facts in mind, the Soviet Union would continue its efforts to achieve a peaceful resolution of the conflict in Afghanistan.
