AFGHANISTAN AND WORLD PROBLEMS IN 16TH SESSION OF U.N. GENERAL ASSEMBLY

By AMANULLAH HASSAN

The Daily Mail, Thursday, March 10, 1960.

In that session of the General Assembly, Afghanistan, which is not a member of the United Nations, has been invited to participate as an observer. This is the first time that a non-member country has been given the opportunity to participate in the work of the Assembly.

Afghanistan is a country located in Central Asia, bordered by Iran, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan. It is a landlocked country with a population of approximately 32 million people.

The country is known for its rich cultural heritage and traditional way of life. It is a Muslim-majority country with a complex political landscape, including multiple internal conflicts and tensions.

Despite its challenges, Afghanistan has made significant progress in recent years, particularly in areas such as education and healthcare. However, the country still faces many economic and social issues.

The invitation to participate in the General Assembly is a significant step forward for Afghanistan's international recognition, allowing it to engage in global discussions and contribute to international efforts on various issues.

The participation of Afghanistan in the General Assembly reflects the growing importance of diversity and inclusiveness in international forums. This move is expected to strengthen the country's position on the global stage and enhance its influence in international affairs.

Overall, the participation of Afghanistan in the 16th session of the General Assembly marks a milestone in the country's efforts to strengthen its role in the international community and contribute to global governance and development.

A special report on the Afghan-Diaspora has been published by the Afghan Diaspora Network, a non-profit organization based in the USA.

The report highlights the significant contributions made by Afghans living abroad to their home country, as well as the challenges they face in adapting to new environments.

The report also discusses the importance of fostering stronger connections between the Afghan Diaspora and the Afghan government and civil society. It calls for increased engagement, cooperation, and support to address the needs and aspirations of Afghans living abroad.

The report serves as a valuable resource for policymakers, advocacy groups, and the general public to better understand the role of the Afghan Diaspora in the global context.

The Afghan diaspora is an integral part of the global community, contributing in significant ways to their host countries and fostering cross-cultural interactions. Their experiences and insights provide valuable perspectives on the challenges and opportunities of migration and diaspora life.

About Afghan Dishes

By Mrs. Dorothy Blake

My previous article about Afghan cuisine focused on the traditional dishes, but I have had many requests for new recipes and ideas.

Afghan cuisine is known for its unique blend of flavors, influenced by the various cultures that have contributed to the country's history. One of the dishes that is especially popular among Afghans is the Afghan Lava Bazm (Afghan Rice Pudding).

The dish typically consists of sweet rice, milk, and honey, with optional additions such as nuts and raisins. It is often served as a dessert, but can also be enjoyed as a light meal.

The recipe is simple and requires only a few ingredients, making it accessible and convenient. It is a perfect example of the Afghan cuisine's ability to transform basic ingredients into delicious and satisfying dishes.

I hope you enjoy trying out this Afghan Lava Bazm and other Afghan dishes in your own kitchen.

SECRET TALKS ON WEST IRIAN DISPUTE

Jakarta, Mar 17—The Indonesian delegation for secret informal talks with Holland on the West Irian dispute yesterday terminated talks without any agreement.

The Indonesian side of the talks was represented by the Indonesian Government's South-East Asia High Commission, headed by Mr. Soebardjo H. Mudjioemeng, Deputy Minister for Foreign Affairs.

This was announced by Mr. Soebardjo, who said that the talks had ended without any agreement because the Indonesian side was not ready to consider the offer of a Dutch representative.

The talks were held in a hotel in the capital city of Jakarta and were attended by both sides.

The Indonesian delegation was also represented by Mr. Soebardjo's deputy, Mr. Soebadijo M. Djoen."
