Charting Our Path: Celebrating 50 Years of Black Studies (1971-2021) Exhibit Opens to the Public
Charting Our Path: Celebrating 50 Years of Black Studies (1971-2021) is now open to the public on the first floor of Criss Library. The exhibit shares the history of one of the oldest Black Studies departments in the nation, highlighting debates over curriculum, attempts to downgrade the department to a program, and the mutual engagement between campus and community.

The exhibit is part of the outreach and programming for the Department of Black Studies anniversary, funded by the UNO Strategic Investment Grant, awarded to the UNO Libraries and the Department of Black Studies for the project “Charting our Path” Celebrating 50 Years of Black Studies, 1971-2021.” Additional funding is provided by UNO Libraries and the Department of Black Studies. For more information about the department and future events, please see the Black Studies department website.

UNO Libraries Joins HathiTrust

UNO Libraries has become the newest member of HathiTrust, a global collaborative of research and academic libraries working towards its mission to ensure that the cultural record is preserved and accessible long into the future. Today, HathiTrust offers reading access to the fullest extent allowable by U.S. copyright law, computational access to the entire corpus for scholarly research, and other emerging services based on the combined collection. HathiTrust members steward this collection under the aims of scholarly, not corporate, interests. HathiTrust holds the largest set of digitized books managed by the academic, research, and library community. This offers an unprecedented opportunity to steward the cultural record.
through increasingly interdependent work that develops capacity and sparks innovation.

When you land at HathiTrust, you can click the Log In button to select UNO as a partner institution and then log in with your UNO credentials (NetID username, password + 2-factor).

If you have questions or want to learn more about HathiTrust, contact your subject librarian.
