INTRODUCTION
INTRODUCTION

This selective bibliography of intergenerational materials reflects the mission and activities of Generations Together, an intergenerational studies unit of the University of Pittsburgh's Center for Social and Urban Research. The items selected for inclusion focus on the literature that describes "... mutual beneficial interaction between young and old through community outreach, education, research, and dissemination of knowledge."

This list covers the five-year period of 1994-1998 and follows an earlier bibliography that covered the period 1980-1994. The two bibliographies are similar in size, mirroring the growth of intergenerational studies as a dynamic field of research and programming. This bibliography is organized by format, and criteria and content limitations are noted at the start of each section when appropriate.

It is hoped that this bibliography will assist program directors, human service professionals, educators, researchers, and students to identify resources on intergenerational topics.

NEWSLETTERS
This section includes a selection of newsletters (print format and online versions) that focus primarily on intergenerational news. Other sources of information on intergenerational programming include the newsletters and publications of associations (AARP, ASA, AGHE, etc.), communities, school districts, and nursing homes.

DATA BASES
DATABASES

Information on intergenerational topics can be found in a wide variety of commercial databases, reflecting the interdisciplinary nature of intergenerational studies. Many of these databases are available at libraries; some are fee-based. ERIC and MEDLINE are both government-sponsored databases and are accessible for free on the Internet. For that reason, they are listed below. In addition, keyword searching of the immense UnCover database (CARL: Colorado Alliance of Research Libraries) is available free at: http://uncweb.carl.org/; Internet

563. AARP. 1993. Ageline. SilverPlatter Information. Contact AARP/AgeLine Database

Other suggested databases (and their online counterparts) include:

- Social sciences: Psychological Abstracts Social Work Abstracts, and Sociological Abstracts
- Medicine/gerontology: CINAHL, Health Source Plus
- Theses: Dissertations Abstracts
- Citation indexes: Arts and Humanities Citation Index, Social Sciences Citation Index

Newspaper and general periodical indexes also provide useful references.

The Internet is a rich source of information about intergenerational topics. The following is a brief and basic list of some intergenerational organizations and networks. Many have links on their home pages to additional sites.
