August Commencement 2005

UNOmaha Chimes

*And the chimes ring out for Omaha, bidding welcome to old and new, to our Alma Mater,
Nebraska Omaha, this city's great Nebraska U.*

We will lift our voice, pledging loyalty, for our thoughts and memories are fond and true.

Voices loud and strong, sing out praise and gratefulness to Omaha Nebraska U!

Hail to you, Omaha Nebraska U!

Commencement

University of Nebraska at Omaha

"Pomp and Circumstance March No. 4" E. Elgar

For the safety and convenience of our guests and out of respect for our graduates, we ask that members of the audience refrain from leaving their seats, congregating near the stage or exiting prior to the close of our ceremonies. A professional photographer will record graduates as they cross the stage. Photos are available from the vendors. Thank you for your cooperation.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Identification of the hood and robe as academic apparel is believed to have originated at the English universities of Oxford and Cambridge during the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. The hoods are a carry-over from the times when monks, who operated these universities, wore them to protect their shaved heads in winter. The robe is an adaptation of the shoulder cape also worn by these same monks while collecting alms.

Use of the academic robe came to the United States in 1754 with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, a commission of University officials adopted a universal code of design and color for the academic garb. This code has undergone several revisions in subsequent years.

Styling of the robes varies for the bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees with the width of sleeve borders and length of the hood increasing with each advanced degree. Hoods are normally not used for bachelor's degrees today. Instead, the tassel colors are used to indicate the degree program. All doctoral degree recipients are indicated by a gold tassel.

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The University Honors Program is an all-University program which provides maximum educational opportunities for students of high ability through special multidisciplinary seminars and participation in an academic level not generally possible in usual curricular offerings.

The program is an outgrowth of the Arts and Sciences Honors program and was initiated in 1978. It is governed through the office of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and administered through the Honors Coordinator. UNO colleges which implement honors programs include Arts and Sciences; Business Administration; Education; Public Affairs and Community Service; Information Science and Technology; and Communication, Fine Arts and Media.

As part of their Honors Program requirements, students undertake a research project that results in a Senior Honors Thesis. Students and their theses topics are listed at the end of the list of graduates. Students who have been designated in this booklet as Honors Program students have fulfilled the academic requirements of this program.

MEDALLION COLORS

Students receiving their baccalaureate degree with honors will be presented medallions in the colors designated.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER AND CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL RECIPIENT

SARA WOODS

Sara Woods, assistant dean of the College of Public Affairs and Community Service (CPACS) at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO), has been a member of the campus community for almost 30 years.

She began her undergraduate studies at UNO in 1976. Upon graduating, she worked in a variety of positions on campus, including admissions counselor, foreign student advisor and program development specialist. In 1997, she earned a master of public administration degree from UNO.

Woods joined CPACS in 1995 as a community service associate and became assistant dean in 2001. In this role, she oversees community outreach programs administered by the college, including the Neighborhood Center for Greater Omaha, the Omaha Community Partnership, the Program for Women and Successful Aging, and the Hate Crimes Coordinating Council.

She represents CPACS in a number of community initiatives and connects the college's resources with a broad range of city, county, state, federal and non-profit agencies. She currently serves on the university Strategic Planning Committee and the Library Resources Committee, and chairs the Greek Ideals Implementation Committee.

Knowledgeable in the area of grants, Woods oversees grant-seeking activities for CPACS and has helped raise more than $50 million in grant resources for the university and local community. She also is instrumental in the development of comprehensive grant proposals and facilitates the grant-seeking efforts of the college's faculty. She also teaches graduate and non-credit courses in grant writing and grant management.

With UNO doctoral candidate Angela Eikenberry, Woods developed and team-taught an honors colloquium, "Philanthropy and Democracy in the United States," in the fall of 2003. This innovative course examined history, trends and the practice of philanthropy in a democratic society, and enabled students to award a $5,000 grant on behalf of Wells Fargo to a local non-profit organization.

Her community involvement also includes serving on the boards of the Neighborhood Center for Greater Omaha, the Nonprofit Association of the Midlands, the Women's Fund of Greater Omaha and Edmonson Youth Outreach/YMCA. A founding member of EndowNebraska, Woods helped develop legislation to establish a charitable giving tax credit (LB 28) in Nebraska, which was passed this legislative session. She has assisted a variety of local organizations in their grant-seeking efforts, including helping to secure a $1.5 million grant for treatment of methamphetamine-addicted offenders on behalf of the Douglas County Drug Court.

The Chancellor's Medal at the University of Nebraska at Omaha was established to recognize the contribution of faculty and administrative staff who embody the institution's mission and values. It is bestowed only to those within the university community who have demonstrated unusual excellence.

STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

SARA THOMSEN

Sara Thomsen, a Fremont, Neb., native, graduates today with a bachelor of arts in psychology and a minor in sociology. Her commencement address is titled "When I Grow Up."

At the University of Nebraska at Omaha, Thomsen was a recipient of the Edith B. Pedersen Scholarship and was named to both the Dean's and Chancellor's Lists. In addition, she was nominated for Most Outstanding Psychology Major, was a finalist for Psychology Representative and was lead undergraduate assistant for the organizational psychology research group.

A member of Psi Chi National Honor Society and Golden Key National Honour Society, Thomsen also values her time spent working in college research groups and participating in the Great Plains Conference at Creighton University.

Additionally, she is an avid reader and enjoys spending time with family and friends. Following commencement, Thomsen plans to seek an internship in human resources and would like to attend graduate school to complete a master's degree.

ORDER OF THE TOWER RECIPIENT

ROY SMITH

Roy Smith is owner of Old Mill Toyota and serves on the Board of the Nebraska Commission of Post Secondary Education, as well as the advisory board of the College of Public Affairs and Community Service at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO). He has developed a lengthy profile of accomplishments, including dedicated service to the Omaha and university communities.

Smith graduated from Lawrenceville Prep School (New Jersey) and received his B.A. in international relations from Stanford University. He went on to serve two years as an infantry officer in the Marine Corps before returning to Omaha and his father's business, H.P. Smith Ford. He continued working in the automotive industry and was involved with seven different dealerships, representing 13 different franchises and one daily rental company. His single current automotive interest is president of Old Mill Toyota.

Active in the community, Smith has served in numerous capacities, including past chairman of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and Industry, past chair of the Omaha Community Partnership (housed within the UNO College of Public Affairs and Community Service), past chair of the United Way Executive Council, past member of the Omaha Airport Authority and trustee of the Mid America Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Among his many honors, Smith has received the J.D. Anderson Leadership Award from the Nebraska Methodist Hospital Foundation, the Humanitarian Award from the Sons of Italy, the Founders Day Award from the City of Omaha and the Free Enterprise Award from Omaha Rotary. He also was a Face on the Barroom Floor at the Omaha Press Club, was honored as Citizen of the Year by United Way and earned a place in the Omaha Business Hall of Fame.

The Order of the Tower is UNO's highest non-academic award. It is bestowed upon community leaders whose service and/or financial support has made it possible for the university to address the academic, cultural and economic needs of the people of Omaha and citizens of Nebraska. Recipients of the award embody virtues and attributes valued highly by the university and are recognized as an example to others.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

JOHN BEASLEY

Born and raised in Omaha, John Beasley began his acting career at the age of 45 after appearing in a variety of local theater productions. Since then, he has been cast in 29 productions and many notable guest TV appearances.

Prior to turning his full-time focus to theatre, he was a Union Pacific Railroad clerk for seven years. After his acting career took off, Beasley began commuting from Omaha to appear on stage at the Mixed Blood Theatre in Minneapolis and the Goodman Theatre in Chicago.

In his first year of acting, Beasley was cast in the television series "Brewster Place," alongside Oprah Winfrey. Additional productions he has appeared in include "Walking Tall" (2004), "The Sum of All Fears" (2002), "The Journeyman" (2001) and "The Apostle" (1997). In 2002, he began starring as Irv Harper on the WB series "Everwood." He has had notable roles on "CSI," "Millennium," "The Pretender," "Early Edition," and "EZ Streets," in addition to guest appearances on "Judging Amy" and "The Untouchables."

In 2002, he founded the John Beasley Theater in Omaha, which strives to promote live theater with a focus on works featuring or written by African Americans. He also devotes time to junior golf and tennis programs, along with fundraisers for the American Heart Association.

ALUMNUS ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

WINNIE L. CALLAHAN

Winnie Callahan is executive director of The University of Nebraska Peter Kiewit Institute (PKI), home of the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) College of Information Science and Technology and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) College of Engineering and Technology. She also is assistant vice president of the University of Nebraska Foundation.

In these capacities, Callahan works directly with the PKI board of policy advisors and its chairman, Walter Scott Jr. She serves as a liaison between the business community and the deans of the two colleges in PKI, and works with UNL, UNO and the university president to enhance opportunities for collaboration and cooperation. In the last seven years, Callahan has been instrumental in helping PKI develop partnerships with more than 180 businesses.

She also assists in PKI student recruitment and chairs its scholarship selection committee. In addition, she works closely with the Scott Technology Center, its director Ken Moreano and local leaders to promote economic development and entrepreneurship.

Prior to her current positions, Callahan was a teacher and principal with Omaha Public Schools (OPS) and served as the OPS director of public information services. For more than 21 years, she also taught graduate and undergraduate courses in the College of Education at UNO, where she earned both her master's and doctoral degrees in educational administration. Her bachelor's degree in elementary education is from Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S.C.

In the community, she serves on an array of community boards, having been elected president of several. She is a 1984 graduate of Leadership Omaha and served on the founding board of Youth Leadership Omaha. She also has been active with the Institute for Career Advancement Needs, the Omaha Children's Museum, Omaha Summer Arts Festival, River City Roundup, West Omaha and Downtown YMCA, and North Omaha B.E.A.R.S.

Her professional memberships include Phi Delta Kappa, the American Association of School Administrators, the National School Public Relations Association, Nebraska Council of School Administrators, Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE), Kauffman Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership and the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE).

Callahan has spoken locally and nationally on a variety of topics related to building excellence in education. She served three years as a consultant to Walt Disney on numerous educational videos, using Disney characters to portray difficult math and English concepts to young children.

She is the recipient of the Nebraska Literacy Award and the YWCA's Outstanding Woman of Distinction Award. In October of 2004, she was inducted into the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Court of Honor.
