ACADEMIC REGALIA

Identification of the hood and robe as academic apparel is believed to have originated at the English universities of Oxford and Cambridge during the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. The hoods are a carry-over from the times when monks, who operated these universities, wore them to protect their shaved heads in winter. The robe is an adaptation of the shoulder cape also worn by these same monks while collecting alms.

Use of the academic robe came to the United States in 1754 with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, a commission of University officials adopted a universal code of design and color for the academic garb. This code has undergone several revisions in subsequent years.

Styling of the robes varies for the bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees with the width of sleeve borders and length of the hood increasing with each advanced degree. Hoods are normally not used for bachelor's degrees today. Instead, the tassel colors are used to indicate the degree program. All doctoral degree recipients are indicated by a gold tassel.

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The University Honors Program is a University-wide program providing maximum educational opportunities for students of high ability through special multidisciplinary seminars and participation in an academic level not generally possible in usual curricular offerings.

The program is an outgrowth of the Arts and Sciences Honors program and was initiated in 1978. It is governed through the office of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and administered through the Honors Coordinator. UNO colleges which implement honors programs include Arts and Sciences; Business Administration; Education; Public Affairs and Community Service; Information Science and Technology; and Communication, Fine Arts and Media.

As part of their Honors Program requirements, students undertake a research project that results in a Senior Honors Thesis. Students and their theses topics are listed at the end of the list of graduates. Students who have been designated in this booklet as Honors Program students have fulfilled the academic requirements of this program. Honors Program graduates wear blue and scarlet Honors cords.

STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

AARON ALBIN

Aaron Albin, an Omaha native, graduates today with a bachelor of arts in English (with a concentration in writing and linguistics) and a bachelor of arts in Spanish. His commencement address is titled "Tomorrow's Heroes."

At the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO), he was a recipient of a Regents Scholarship, the Hansen Distinguished Scholarship and the Marian Basler/Helen Basler Anderson Scholarship. A member of the Honors Program, Omicron Delta Kappa, Sigma Tau Delta and Sigma Delta Pi, he also was named to the Dean's and Chancellor's Lists several times.

Albin has been active as the secretary for the Friends of Japan, a student organization dedicated to providing opportunities for cultural interaction between American and Japanese students at UNO. In addition, he was a member of the Global Diplomat Program, a team of 15 scholarship recipients through UNO International Studies and Programs that picked up new international students from the airport, helped them transition to living in Omaha and planned outreach events to involve them on campus.

For the past six years, Albin has also assisted exchange students from the Hiroshima College of Foreign Languages. Each summer, he was one of several conversation partners who helped the students practice English conversation skills and showed the students around Omaha. Last year, he became the conversation partner leader and managed relations between conversation partners, host families and faculty.

Fluent in Japanese from 10 years of self-teaching, Albin holds a teaching position at Omaha Japanese School. Upon graduation from UNO, he will venture to Japan for a 90-day stay including work on a linguistics research project involving Japanese.

This fall, he plans to move to Indiana to enter a master's program in linguistics and teach Japanese courses through an associate instructorship. Eventually, Albin wants to earn his Ph.D. in linguistics or second language acquisition studies and become a researcher at a Japanese university.

CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL RECIPIENT

KATHY PFEIFFER

Kathy Pfeiffer has been the budget coordinator at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) since 2000. She began her service to UNO in 1979 as accounting clerk III. Other positions she has held include accounting technician and budget assistant.

Pfeiffer is responsible for preparing the UNO operating budget. She oversees changes and updates to the budget to ensure the adherence of guidelines set by the University of Nebraska Office of the President and Board of Regents.

Additionally, she represents the Business and Finance division on university committees on behalf of the budget. She also provides budget assistance and training to the campus community, including periodic financial reviews with deans and chairs/department heads.

She participated in the implementation and the ongoing developments of the university's Financial Management and Human Resource System. In addition, she contributed as a team member in the design and implementation of the current budget module.

Before joining the university, Pfeiffer was an accounting clerk I at Wayne State College. There, she processed the student bi-weekly payroll, daily deposits, student loan collections and billings.

Active on campus, Pfeiffer is a volunteer and supporter of the Diet Pepsi/UNO Women's Walk. A two-time recipient of the UNO Employee of the Month Award, she was honored for her dedication to the university in June 1986 and January 1997.

Pfeiffer enjoys volunteering for high school athletics and attending a variety of events.

The Chancellor's Medal at the University of Nebraska at Omaha was established to recognize the contribution of faculty and administrative staff who embody the institution's mission and values. It is bestowed only to those within the university community who have demonstrated unusual excellence.

ALUMNUS ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

JOHN CHRISTENSEN

John Christensen has served as the 14th chancellor of the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) since May 2007. He is the first UNO graduate and Omaha native to lead the institution. Christensen earned a master's degree in special education/speech pathology from UNO in 1974.

Christensen has spent nearly his entire academic career at UNO, beginning in 1978 as a faculty member in the College of Education's Department of Special Education and Communication Disorders. He, subsequently, served as chair of that department for 12 years.

He was dean of the College of Education from 1998-2003 and vice chancellor for academic and student affairs from 2003 until his appointment as interim chancellor in 2006. As chancellor, Christensen oversees eight colleges, 3,000 faculty and staff, 15,000 students and an annual budget of $172 million.

A graduate of Omaha Benson High School, Christensen earned a bachelor's degree in speech communications and drama at Dana College in 1971. From 1972-73, he was an instructor in special education and communication disorders at the now-defunct JFK College in Wahoo, Neb.

In 1975, Christensen became a speech-language pathologist in Omaha with Educational Service Unit #3, where he was responsible for elementary and secondary public school children and youth with communication disorders.

From 1976-78, he was co-director of the adult stuttering program at the University of Kansas Department of Speech Pathology/Audiology. The program provided fluency disorders services for the Kansas City and Topeka metropolitan areas, in addition to the central states region. In 1977, Christensen joined the University of Alaska (Fairbanks) as a co-instructor for summer programs dealing with speech-language pathology interventions.

Christensen earned his Ph.D. in 1980 from the University of Kansas in speech pathology/audiology. His research and scholarly activity includes numerous publications and professional reports, book reviews and conference presentations. He has served on more than 75 college, departmental and university committees at UNO.

Active in the community, Christensen has been a member of a number of committees or boards of professional, community and state organizations, including the Omaha Community Partnership, Omaha Public Schools, Millard Public Schools and the Omaha 2000 Steering Committee. He also has been instrumental to the Metropolitan Omaha Educational Consortium, Central High School, Boys Town National Research Hospital, Omaha Home for Boys, Stuttering Foundation of America, Nebraska ADHD, Westside Community Schools and others.
