The Thompson Learning Community (TLC) is a learning community that provides support to students with a Susan T. Buffett Foundation scholarship. TLC aims to make the transition to college, and the entry into a major field of study as smooth and educationally rewarding as possible.

TLC promotes academic success through common courses, academic workshops, and connections with university faculty from many disciplines.

Additionally, the transition is supported through opportunities to develop relationships with other scholars, an upper class mentor, social programming, and personal support from dedicated professionals.
