What is Title IX?

Title IX is not just about sports. It is a comprehensive federal law that prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in any federally funded education program or activity.

- Prohibits sex discrimination in educational institutions that receive federal funding
- The ban includes sexual harassment, sexual assault, intimate partner violence and stalking
- Applies to students, faculty, staff at anyone present on a campus regardless of sexual orientation, immigration status, gender identity, or disability status
- Retaliation for reporting is prohibited by law and covered under Title IX

Where to Report Incidents

UNO responds to all complaints concerning discrimination and harassment, and has dedicated administrators to handle Title IX concerns.

We encourage all survivors or witnesses to report misconduct.

Advocacy Response & Victim/Survivor Services

UNO provides free, confidential advocacy services and resources for students who have experienced relationship violence and sexual assault. Advocacy response will:

- Meet with you privately on campus or at a place of your choice to make a report
- Assist you in receiving hospital, medical, counseling, and other support services even if you choose not to pursue criminal charges
- NOT prejudice you, and you will not be blamed for what occurred
- Treat you and your particular situation with courtesy, sensitivity, dignity, understanding, and professionalism
- Consider your situation, regardless of your gender identity and sexual orientation, and regardless of the gender identity and sexual orientation of the suspect(s)
