HALTING TESTS IN AIR, SPACE AND WATER
U.S.A. Calls For Early Treaty

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Kennedy yesterday invited the United Nations Security Council to meet to consider a request from the Secretary-General that the United States and the Soviet Union halt their tests in the air, space and water. The U.S. Embassy in Moscow has received word that the U.S. had been invited to attend a meeting of the Security Council of the United Nations to be held this morning.

The United States Ambassador to the United Nations, Mr. William T. Lash, said yesterday that he had been invited to attend the meeting of the Security Council. The United States Ambassador said that he had been invited to attend the meeting of the Security Council. He added that the United States would be represented by Mr. William T. Lash, who has been appointed as the United States Representative to the United Nations.

The meeting of the Security Council is expected to be held this morning, and is expected to be attended by representatives of all the nations of the United Nations. The meeting is expected to discuss the situation in the Middle East, and the United States and the Soviet Union are expected to be represented by their respective ambassadors.

The meeting of the Security Council is expected to be held this morning, and is expected to be attended by representatives of all the nations of the United Nations. The meeting is expected to discuss the situation in the Middle East, and the United States and the Soviet Union are expected to be represented by their respective ambassadors.
Rising Optimism In U.N. Over Settlement Of Cuban Issue

Despite the persistence of the Cuban crisis, there is growing confidence among the international community that a solution to the conflict is possible. Most nations believe that a peaceful resolution can be achieved through dialogue and negotiation. The United Nations has been actively involved in mediating the talks between the Cuban government and the U.S. representatives. It is hoped that these efforts will lead to a lasting peace in the region.

The crisis has also led to increased diplomatic activity among many nations. The UN has been at the forefront of these efforts, organizing several high-level meetings to discuss the situation. The international community has expressed support for the Cuban government and has called for a peaceful resolution.

Despite the challenges, there is optimism that a resolution can be reached. The UN has been working closely with all parties involved to ensure that the interests of all nations are taken into account. The crisis has also highlighted the importance of international cooperation and the role played by the UN in maintaining peace and stability.

As the crisis continues, the international community remains committed to finding a peaceful solution. The UN has been a crucial player in this effort, and its continued involvement is essential for a successful outcome.
Khrushchev's Statement

"...been a hotbed of tension and strain. This is why the United Nations should work at all possible on the problem of..."

Porters: With Talks, Talks...

"Mr. KhruShchev, I have been informed that there is a new attack upon the Cuba sugar industry. This attack is the result of the United States' action. So the leader of the United States, Mr. KhruShchev, said that the United States had attacked the sugar industry of Cuba, and that in order to..."

Control of British Guiana's Industries

"In his message to the British government, Mr. Thrushchev said that the United States had attacked the sugar industry of Cuba, and that in order to..."

Renewed Bloody Fighting in Yemen

"The other conditions are a new attack upon the sugar industry of Cuba, and that in order to..."

Weather

"The weather report from Havana, Cuba, for Tuesday, October 28, 1953, is as follows:"

Thant's Visit to Cuba

"The United Nations, through its representative, Mr. KhruShchev, said that the United States had attacked the sugar industry of Cuba, and that in order to..."

Kaulil Times, October 28, 1953

All students will get full information in the above quoted notes.