CONTENTS.

Part I.—All Pathan tribes north of the Kabul river and west of the Indus ... 1 to 51
Part II.—Tribes between the Kabul and Kurnan rivers, including the Turis ... 52 to 99
Part III.—Tribes between the Kurnan and Gumal rivers, and those on the Desjat border ... 100 to 200
Part IV.—Pathan tribes south of the Gumal and Tribes, such as the Rihakis, which occupy country on both sides of the border between the North-West Frontier Province and Baluchistan ... 201 to 202
The classification adopted in this dictionary is as follows:-

1. The tribe.
2. The clan of the tribe.
3. The division of the clan.
4. The sub-division of the division.
5. The section of the sub-division.
6. Other minor fractions of the section.

The headings in the dictionary read from the lesser to the greater; thus: Dado Kafel are a minor fraction of the Drophra section, of the Khunzogi subdivision, of the Nasrul din division, of the Zakka Khel clan, of the Afridi tribe.

Figures in brackets indicate the number of the fighting men of the fraction immediately preceding the figures.

The locality of the tribe, clan, or division, etc., is also given within brackets, where this is capable of accurate definition, and is not sufficiently indicated in the name of the tribe, clan, etc. In many cases the names of the headmen have been given.

"Gar" and "Samil"—These terms refer to the two political factions into which the tribes on the Peshawar and Kohat borders are divided. At some remote period a bitter feud existed between the Gar and Samil branches of the great Bengal tribes, and all the neighbouring tribes appear to have joined one faction or the other; although the origin of the quarrel has been forgotten the division still remains.

"SUNNIS" AND "SHAISAS."—The vast majority of the frontier tribesmen belong to the former sect; and this may be assumed to be the case where not otherwise expressly stated.

"HAKIMI."—Vagral or dependent settlers, amongst an alien tribe.

This dictionary only gives the Pathan or Pashto-speaking tribes within the Durand Line. Tribes, which are Afghan subjects, are only mentioned, when the tribe in question dwells on both sides of the border, or when for any reason we have political dealings with it. Also, tribes within the administrative border under our rule are not, in most cases, given in full detail.

The distinction, made by Dr. Bellows, between Afghan and Pathan tribes is not observed in the dictionary, the words Afghan and Pathan being taken as practically synonymous terms for the people who call themselves Pakhtana (or Pakhtana), plural of Pakhtan (or Pakhtuna).
PART I.

WAZIRS (36,140").-A large tribe of Pathans who inhabit the hill country to the west of the Trans-Indus frontier from the Kunrani river near Thall, to the Gomal Pass. They are divided into two main branches, i.e., the Darwesh Khel and the Mahsuds. The former are again divided into the Akhundzai and the Umanzai. Each of these three branches, i.e., the Mahsuds, the Umanzai, and the Akhundzai have little in common with each other. Two Afghan tribes, i.e., the Gurba of Kohat and the Kallai, northern slopes of the Safed Koh, are of the same origin as the Wazirs. A few families of Gurbas live on the British side of the Durand Line. The name Wazir is, amongst the tribesmen, more generally applied to the Darwesh Khel branch only, which is considered as a separate tribe to the Mahsuds for the purposes of this dictionary.

The following note by Captain A. H. McMahon, C.I.E., Explains the various spiritual titles and denominations in use among Pathans.

The denominations under which the descendants of all Muhammadan spiritual leaders come according to Pathans, and it might say Indian (usage), are, in order of spiritual rank, as follows:

1. Saiyads—This is the term given to descendants of the Prophet. Owing to their large number and varying circumstances, it does not follow that a Saiyad, as such, is given precedence over other spiritual denominations, but a Saiyad who comes into prominence as a religious man, takes precedence of all other religious denominations.

2. Mians—These are the descendants of saints and spiritual leaders who have acquired a wide reputation among many tribes, and have a nearly local reputation. All Mians are, or are supposed to be, descendants of saints of more part century. The term is not given to descendants of modern saints, but some of these may in course of time become Mians. The remarks made regarding Saiyads apply to Mians also. The principal saints of this class on the northern frontier are ranked as follows:

(1) Pt. Baba of Buner.
(2) Kaka Sahib of Nowshera.
(3) Kureshi of Swat.
(4) Kursi Sahib, of Kohat.
(5) Dabul Baba, of Buner.

Mian of Swat—The Akhund of Swat does not rank in this class. His descendants are given the title of Miangul by courtesy. They should, strictly speaking, be only Akhundzada.

Saiyads. A true Saiyad is the descendant of Ali, the son-in-law of Muhammad, by Fatima, Muhammad's daughter. Many of the Pathan tribes such as the Bangash of Kohat, and the Mishwanis of the Hazara border, claim Saiyad origin. The apostles who completed the conversion of the Pathans to Islam were called Saiyads if they came from the west, and Shekhs if from the east. Consequently, many false claims to Saiyad origin are made. In Afghanistan the Saiyads have much of the commerce in their hands, and their holy character allows them to pass unharmed, where other Pathans would infallibly be murdered.

Srek is an Arabic term meaning elder or chief. It is a title properly confined to persons of high descent, but is very commonly used to denote jemand in Islam.
the family keep up their spiritual record, which is doubtful, future descendants may in time be classed as Miss.

(2) The Kominda are ranked as Mis.

3. Kominda—Sometimes known also as Pirzadas. They are descendants of saints of merely local or tribal reputation. They have a village of Khap (Dir), of Nagar (Jand), of Kush (Afghan), Swat, and so on. The descendants of "Masih Ali" are ranked as Akhundzadas, because Masih Ali was himself an Akhundzada, otherwise they would be only Kominda.

4. Khoandas—These are descendants of saints who have gained a reputation for learning or asceticism. As such are classed the descendants of the Komaha Masih, Masih Mulla, Adda Mulla, Karbogha Mulla, etc.

All of the above classes are, according to Pathan custom, entitled to grants of free land called Seri. The amount of land varies, as a general rule, according to the above-described ranks. Lands on the border between two villages, disputed lands, and lands which for some reason or other are difficult to hold, are generally given as Seri as the religious status of their holders makes them useful buffers and enables them to enjoy disputed lands in peace.*

* Koreshi or Qureshi is the name of the Arab tribe to which the Prophet belonged. The Koreshis of the Punjab are mostly descendants of Balam Bak, the renowned saint of Mian.

+ The religious and military leader of the Ghilzais in the 2nd Afghan War.
