FRANCO-GERMAN

ATTITUDE TO

By: E.C.M. Condemned

SAN REMO, Italy, Jan. 27, (Reuters)—The International

Committee of Safety and the delegates of the Eastern European states have passed a resolution condemning the entry of the French President into Italy. The resolution was adopted by 13 votes to 5, with Germany abstaining.

The resolution expresses the committee's concern over the entry of President De Gaulle into Italy and the subsequent actions of the French government, particularly in the field of international relations.

The resolution calls for an immediate cease-fire in the conflict in the Middle East and the disengagement of all foreign troops from the region.

The French government has been criticized for its approach to the Middle East conflict, with Italy expressing concern over the tension in the region. The resolution calls for a meeting of interested parties to discuss the situation.

The resolution also calls for the immediate withdrawal of all foreign troops from the region, including French troops, and the establishment of a neutral zone.

The resolution is supported by Italy, Spain,

Pakistan, and the United States, among others.

The resolution was opposed by France, the United Kingdom, and Turkey, who argued that it did not address the root causes of the conflict.

THE IMPACT OF SCIENCE ON SOCIETY

By: I. C. H. van Veen

The European community is a major player in the world of science. It is one of the largest funding bodies in the world and its influence extends far beyond its borders.

The Community has a long history of supporting research and development, and its success in this area is widely recognized.

Science has a significant impact on society, both positively and negatively. The Community must continue to support science in order to meet the challenges of the 21st century.

KABUL, Jan. 27—Afghanistan's relations with the Western world have been strengthened by a new agreement concerning cooperation in the field of education. The agreement was signed by Afghanistan and the European Community in Brussels.

The agreement will provide for joint education projects and the exchange of students and teachers. It also includes a provision for the establishment of a joint commission to oversee the implementation of the agreement.

The agreement is seen as a significant step forward in Afghan-Western relations, and is expected to lead to further cooperation in other fields.

The agreement was signed by

Afghanistan's Foreign Minister

Mulla Mohammad and the European Community's

Representative, Mr. Jean

Chavigny.

The agreement comes at a time when Afghanistan is seeking to bolster its economic and political relations with the West. The agreement is seen as a positive development in this context.

Two Stories About Two Ghaznavide Monarchs

By A. A. Kohiap

The story of the Ghaznavide dynasty is one of the most fascinating in Persian history. The dynasty, which ruled from the 10th to the 12th century, was known for its military prowess and cultural achievements.

The dynasty was founded by Mahmud of Ghazna, who was a brilliant military leader and a great patron of the arts. He was succeeded by his son, Nargis, who continued the dynasty's legacy of military and cultural achievements.

At the height of its power, the Ghaznavide dynasty controlled vast territories in Central Asia and Persia, and its influence extended throughout the Islamic world.
