The Man To Replace Pope John Will Keep Up His Ideals

CARDINALS COMMENTS

VATICAN CITY, June 10 (UPI).—Cardinals commenting on the papal resignation of Cardinal John XXIII said that they believe the new pontiff should continue the modernizing policies of his predecessor.

They believe the new pope should continue to work for the peace of the world, world disarmament, equal rights for all ethnic groups, and the reform of the Holy See.

The Cardinals said they believe that the new pope should support the efforts of the United Nations and other international bodies in the search for peace.

The Cardinals also believe that the new pope should continue to work for the reform of the Church, particularly in regard to the role of women and the Communion of saints.

South African Federation Reported Asking For Independence

WASHINGTON, June 10 (UPI).—The South African Federation, a powerful body of the Nationalist Party, has been reported asking for independence from Britain.

The Federation, which has issued a statement calling for the establishment of a republic in South Africa, has expressed its belief that Britain is not capable of providing the protection necessary for the safety of the Afrikaner people.

The Federation has also called for the resignation of Prime Minister Jan Smuts and the formation of a new government by the Afrikaner Party.

The statement said: "We cannot tolerate any further delay in the achievement of our aims."

Attassì Returns From Iraq Trip

KABUL, June 10 (AP).—Attassì, a well-known Afghan intellectual, returned from a trip to Iraq yesterday. He said that he had discussed with Iraqi officials the possibility of establishing a cultural center in Afghanistan.

The center would be financed by the Iraqi government and would promote cultural and educational exchanges between the two countries.

Aubert's resignation in the face of stiff opposition from the government and other international bodies in the search for peace.

The Cardinals also believe that the new pope should continue to work for the reform of the Church, particularly in regard to the role of women and the Communion of saints.

Free Exchange Rates At Da Afghanistan Bank

KABUL, June 10 (UPI).—The government has announced that it will introduce free exchange rates at the Da Afghanistan Bank, effective from tomorrow.

The announcement follows a period of controls on foreign exchange and the introduction of a new currency, the Afghani, earlier this year.

RADHAKRISHNAN CALLS ON NATIONS TO GET RID OF RIGID NATIONALISM

NEW YORK, June 14, (AP) - Under Secretary-General for Political and Economic Affairs, Rajendra Prasad, today charged that writers, journalists and other intellectuals were not doing their part in helping to spread the gospel of non-violence in the United Nations. He addressed the United Nations on the theme "The Language of the Press at a Glance." The Indian representative warned that "rigid nationalism" was a menace to world peace and stability.

"NOMADISM AND STUDIES IN PAKHTUN NOMADISM"

PART II

By ELIZABETH L. EVANS

"The lack of study on the subject of the nomads of Paktunistan is characterized by very few reports and studies. While the nomads of Iran and Central Asia are studied by historians and geographers, the nomads of Afghanistan and Pakistan have received little attention in the academic world. However, during the last two decades, the nomads of Paktunistan have become a source of interest to the academic community.

The Paktunistan nomads are semi-nomadic, living in the mountains of Afghanistan and Pakistan. They are known for their nomadic lifestyle, which has been passed down from generation to generation. Their culture is closely tied to their nomadic way of life, and their traditions are an important part of their identity.

The Paktunistan nomads are known for their deep knowledge of the environment and their ability to live off the land. They are skilled in herding animals and farming, and they have a strong connection to the land and the animals they depend on for survival.

The nomads of Paktunistan are also known for their hospitality and their strong family bonds. They are a close-knit community, and their way of life is centered around the family.

The nomads of Paktunistan are an important part of the history and culture of the region. They have a rich history, and their way of life is a fascinating glimpse into the past.

"REVIVAL OF "SULTANATE CULTURE" BY AFGHAN KINGS IN INDIA"

The only historic art work of Sultanate culture is the "Sultanate of Indore," which was founded in the 14th century. The Sultanate of Indore was a kingdom in western India, centered on the city of Indore. The Sultanate of Indore was ruled by a dynasty of Muslim Sultans, who were known for their cultural achievements.

The Sultanate of Indore was known for its rich art and architecture, which was influenced by the Islamic and Hindu traditions of the region. The Sultanate of Indore was also known for its contributions to the arts, including music, dance, and poetry.

The Sultanate of Indore was a center of intellectual activity, and it was known for its universities and libraries. The Sultanate of Indore was also a center of political activity, and it was a important source of revenue for the Mughal Empire.

The Sultanate of Indore was eventually conquered by the Mughal Empire in the 16th century. However, the Sultanate of Indore continued to influence the culture and art of the region for many years to come. The Sultanate of Indore was a symbol of the richness and diversity of the Sultanate culture, and it continues to be an important part of the history and culture of India.

Wallace To Stand Personally At University Entrance And Forbid Negroes To Enter STIFFING BY KENNEDY

TUCSON, Ariz., June 11—James McIlroy, who was denied admission to the University of Arizona, will stand at the University's entrance and forbid negroes to enter.

Wallace made clear the exact point at which Wallace will stand and forbid negroes to enter.

The Governor outlined the prospects for industrial development in the state, said he had wanted to make the negroes understand the benefits of his policies and saw no reason for the negroes to be denied admission to the University.

Observers Dismissed By Security Council

The Observer, in a report to the Security Council, said that the Governor had not wanted to make the negroes understand the benefits of his policies and saw no reason for the negroes to be denied admission to the University.

According to a banker report, the reports on the situation at the University will be carried out by the Governor, who has asked the University to improve the quality of education, the Governor said.
