 metod for the second wave of the corona pandemic. The growing number of new infections is raising concerns about the city's health system capacity. The response to the pandemic has been criticized for its slow pace and lack of clear guidance. The government has announced a two-week lockdown starting on 4 April, in an attempt to curb the spread of the virus. The lockdown has been extended several times, with restrictions becoming more stringent. The situation is particularly worrying in densely populated areas, where the virus is spreading rapidly. The government has called on the public to stay home and avoid gatherings, while medical staff are urging people to stay calm and follow health guidelines. The second wave of the pandemic has also had a significant impact on the economy, with businesses struggling to survive. The government has announced financial support measures to help affected businesses and workers. However, the crisis has highlighted the need for a long-term plan to address the country's economic challenges.
