8-21-1963

Kabul Times (August 21, 1963, vol. 2, no. 146)

Bakhtar News Agency

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.unomaha.edu/kabultimes

Part of the International and Area Studies Commons

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.unomaha.edu/kabultimes/427
LONG WAY FOR WESTERN ALLIES TO REACH ACCORD ON INSPECTION SYSTEM
Kennedy Says U.S. Does Not Have Views On The Subject
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—

President Kennedy today disclosed that he is experimenting with tell-tale dyes to use on paper money in transit by rail or truck.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. has been working on the idea of putting dyes on paper money "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. is experimenting with dyes that will be visible under certain conditions, such as when the paper money is held up to a strong light. He said that the dyes will be used on paper money of all denominations, and that they will be particularly effective in preventing counterfeiting.

Mr. Kennedy said that the dyes will be used "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. is experimenting with dyes that will be visible under certain conditions, such as when the paper money is held up to a strong light. He said that the dyes will be used on paper money of all denominations, and that they will be particularly effective in preventing counterfeiting.

Mr. Kennedy said that the dyes will be used "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. is experimenting with dyes that will be visible under certain conditions, such as when the paper money is held up to a strong light. He said that the dyes will be used on paper money of all denominations, and that they will be particularly effective in preventing counterfeiting.

Mr. Kennedy said that the dyes will be used "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. is experimenting with dyes that will be visible under certain conditions, such as when the paper money is held up to a strong light. He said that the dyes will be used on paper money of all denominations, and that they will be particularly effective in preventing counterfeiting.

Mr. Kennedy said that the dyes will be used "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. is experimenting with dyes that will be visible under certain conditions, such as when the paper money is held up to a strong light. He said that the dyes will be used on paper money of all denominations, and that they will be particularly effective in preventing counterfeiting.

Mr. Kennedy said that the dyes will be used "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.

Mr. Kennedy said that the U.S. is experimenting with dyes that will be visible under certain conditions, such as when the paper money is held up to a strong light. He said that the dyes will be used on paper money of all denominations, and that they will be particularly effective in preventing counterfeiting.

Mr. Kennedy said that the dyes will be used "because it is a known fact that paper money is used by many people in this country as an asset to hold..." He said that the idea has not been tried out in the United States, but that it has been used by a number of other countries.