LONG WAY FOR WESTERN ALLIES TO REACH ACCORD ON INSPECTION SYSTEM

The Western allies will have to go a long way to reach an accord on inspection systems, according to a report from the United Nations (UN) office in Vienna. The report states that the Western allies have so far been unable to agree on a system that would allow for the verification of nuclear disarmament agreements.

The 45th Anniversary Of Afghanistan's Independence

by MIRIAM SHIRZEE

We have heard frequently and for many years that Afghanistan has had its 45th anniversary of independence on August 19th. In this speech, we will look at how the country has developed and what challenges it faces.

What did we do on Independence Day?

Yesterday's Independence Day was celebrated in Kabul, the capital city, with a parade and a speech by President Mohammad Ashraf Ghani. The celebration was marked by the Afghan flag being raised in front of the presidency. The President's speech highlighted the country's progress and achievements since gaining independence.

The Language at a Glance

On this day, we will take a look at the language used in the country. Afghanistan is a multilingual country, with Pashto and Dari being the most widely spoken languages. The country has a rich cultural heritage, and the language used in various regions can vary significantly.
