AFGHAN VIEWS ON EQUITABLE REPRESENTATION OF SEATS IN U.N.

Following is the text of a statement by Mr. Abdul Rahman, permanent Afghan representative to the United Nations:

The view presented was taken in New York after the draft resolution in the General Assembly had been adopted on the question of the represen-tability of each country to the United Nations.

In the draft resolution, the General Assembly stated that:

1. The establishment of a Committee of Eighteen, provided for in the preamble of the draft resolution, should be accepted as a basis for the purpose of clarifying and facilitating the adoption of a final draft resolution, and further meetings of the General Assembly should be held in New York at the appropriate time, after due consideration of the views expressed by all members, and the Assembly should adopt a final draft resolution in the form in which it is final and complete.

2. The General Assembly should adopt a resolution, at its fourteenth session, following the adoption of the final draft resolution, on the question of the represen-tability of each country to the United Nations, including the establishment of a Committee of Eighteen as the basis for the purpose of clarifying and facilitating the adoption of a final draft resolution, and further meetings of the General Assembly should be held in New York at the appropriate time, after due consideration of the views expressed by all members, and the Assembly should adopt a final draft resolution in the form in which it is final and complete.

Mr. Rahman said that the Afghan delegate had the following views on the draft resolution:

1. The establishment of a Committee of Eighteen, provided for in the preamble of the draft resolution, should be accepted as a basis for the purpose of clarifying and facilitating the adoption of a final draft resolution, and further meetings of the General Assembly should be held in New York at the appropriate time, after due consideration of the views expressed by all members, and the Assembly should adopt a final draft resolution in the form in which it is final and complete.
