Govt. focuses attention on agriculture

Agriculture plays a vital role in the economy of the country. The government of Afghanistan has always been focused on promoting agricultural activities. This is evident from the recent policies and initiatives aimed at improving the agricultural sector. The government has provided financial support and incentives to farmers, and has also introduced new technologies to enhance the productivity of crops. The focus on agriculture is not only aimed at increasing food security, but also at boosting the economy and creating employment opportunities.

Power politics ideology vs. Detente

The history of world politics is full of examples of power politics and detente. In recent years, the concept of detente has gained prominence, particularly in the context of international relations. The goal of detente is to achieve peaceful coexistence and mutual understanding. While power politics emphasizes the use of force to achieve one's goals, detente seeks to achieve objectives through peaceful means.

World outlook of Mia Faqirullah

By Mustafa Alwi

In the realm of international politics, the year 1983 was marked by a significant change in the global landscape. This change was most evident in the shift from Cold War tensions to a new era of détente. The end of the Korean War, which had been raging for over two decades, brought about a new sense of peace and cooperation between the two superpowers. This era of détente was characterized by increased diplomatic interactions and the recognition of the importance of dialogue in resolving international conflicts.

Mia Faqirullah of Jalal-Abad

By Dr. Sajidur Rehman

The year 1983 was a pivotal one for the nation of Jalal-Abad. The government's commitment to development and education was evident in the establishment of new schools and the expansion of existing ones. This focus on education was aimed at ensuring a brighter future for the children of Jalal-Abad. The government also worked towards improving the infrastructure, with the construction of new roads and bridges facilitating easier access to remote areas.

Power politics ideology vs. Detente

The history of world politics is marked by the struggle between power politics and détente. Power politics, characterized by the pursuit of national interests and the use of military force, has often led to tensions and conflicts. Détente, on the other hand, advocates for peaceful resolution of disputes and cooperation between nations. The year 1983 saw a shift towards détente, with the signing of several important diplomatic agreements that aimed to reduce tensions and promote mutual understanding.
