Good Neighbourly Relations Between Afghanistan, USSR Stressed In Pravda Article

PRAGDV'S special correspondent in Moscow reported Thursday that the Soviet government is stressing good neighbourly relations between Afghanistan and the USSR. The correspondent noted that the two countries have had a long history of cooperation and mutual assistance dating back to the days of the Soviet Union's early development.

The correspondent cited several examples of recent cooperation between the two nations, including joint efforts in the fields of agriculture, industrial development, and defense. He noted that the Soviet Union has provided significant financial and technical assistance to Afghanistan, helping it to modernize and build its infrastructure.

The correspondent also mentioned the importance of political consultation between the two countries, emphasizing the close ties between their leadership. He concluded by stating that the Soviet government is committed to maintaining and strengthening these relations for the benefit of both nations.

Food, Petrol Price Cuts Announced By Indonesia

Jakarta, Jan. 25. (Newswires).- Indonesian President Soekarno has announced price cuts for food and petrol, effective immediately.

The President said the cuts were necessary to reduce inflation and make basic necessities more affordable for the average Indonesian. He noted that the government has been closely monitoring the prices of goods and services in recent months, and that the need for price adjustments had been evident.

The cuts will affect the price of petrol by 10 percent, and the price of food by 5 percent. The President said the government would continue to monitor prices and make further adjustments as needed.
