Miniature painting requires patience and skill. Sometimes it takes six to eight years to complete a single work.

As a result, few artists have devoted enough time and effort to master this kind of art. This has been the case in recent years.

However, there are a few artists dedicated enough to this school of painting who think it is worth the time and effort. Among them, Behzad is one of the most skilled and recognized.

Behzad was still alive when collages were created. However, there are a few artists who have continued the tradition of Timurid miniatures.

One of the first works was created by Behzad in the British Library. It is a beautiful example of the style and technique of Timurid miniature painting.

Miniature artists at the British Library have created a beautiful example of the Timurid style. The illustration shows the artist, Behzad, with his miniature books. It is a reminder of the importance of miniature painting in the Timurid period and its continued relevance today.

The exhibition of miniatures, which is free to the public, continues until 21 March 1966.

Freeman Leaves Saigon After 4-Day Farming Studies

SUKIN, Feb. 15 - (AP) - U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block today completed a tour of the Mekong Delta where he inspected six rice farms and discussed with officials the need for additional aid.

When asked by West Germany's Eisenhower about his views on the U.S. role in the war, Block said he was a conservative and believed in the United Nations. Block also said that he supported the extension of U.S. forces to Vietnam and the United Nations' role in the war.

Two Young To Be The Father's Successors

KABUL, Feb. 17 - (AP) - The vice president of the central committee of the KPB, Dr. Mohammad Asif, has announced that two young men will be the successors of the president of the committee.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the central committee in which Dr. Asif also expressed his support for the president of the committee, Dr. Mohammad Reza.

The announcement was made in response to a request by the president of the committee, Dr. Mohammad Reza, who had been in office since 1986. The president had asked for the support of the central committee in his efforts to bring about a change in the leadership of the KPB.

Egyptian Women Sets Record On Fire

KABUL, Feb. 17 - (AP) - A woman in the Egyptian army, Fatima Moustafa, has set a new world record by running 1,000 meters in 3 minutes and 48 seconds.

The record was set at a recent international athletics meeting in London, where she finished second in the women's 1,500-meter race.

The 30-year-old Moustafa, who has been in the army since 1984, broke the world record set by Soviet athlete Yelena Lovkovskaya in 1987.

Free Exchange Rates at Afghanistans Bank

KABUL, Feb. 17 - (AP) - The Afghanistans Bank has announced that free exchange rates will be implemented at all foreign exchange offices starting from February 18.

The announcement was made in response to a request by the government, which has been trying to control the rise in prices and the depreciation of the Afghani.

The free exchange rates will allow citizens to exchange their Afghani at a market rate, which will be determined by the supply and demand of the currency.
