April 2022

I'm Here

William L. Blizek

University of Nebraska at Omaha, wblizek@unomaha.edu

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.unomaha.edu/jrf>

Part of the Film and Media Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

Blizek, William L. (2022) "I'm Here," Journal of Religion & Film: Vol. 26 : Iss. 1 , Article 38.

DOI: <https://doi.org/10.32873/uno.dc.jrf.26.01.028>

Available at: <https://digitalcommons.unomaha.edu/jrf/vol26/iss1/38>

This Slamdance Film Festival Review is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UNO. It has been accepted for inclusion in Journal of Religion & Film by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@UNO. For more information, please contact unodigitalcommons@unomaha.edu.

I'm Here

Abstract

This is a film review of I'm Here (2020), directed by Julia Orlik.

Keywords

Aging, Death

Creative Commons License

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 License.

Author Notes

William Blizek is the Founding Editor of the Journal of Religion and Film and is Emeritus Professor of Philosophy and Religion at the University of Nebraska-Omaha. He is also the editor of the Continuum Companion to Religion and Film (2009).

I'm Here (2020), dir. Julia Orlik

This animated short film is the story of a woman who is paralyzed and dying. Her husband and her daughter are trying to figure out how best to take care of her. The woman cannot respond to the conversations carried on by her husband and her daughter, but she hears those conversations. What she would like to say is: "I'm here." How frightening it must be to see and hear the world around you and yet not be able to interact with that world. How alone one must feel. It is in its own way a kind of death. A death before death.