EMPHASIS ON TRAINING OF TEACHERS IN AFGHANISTAN

By SAMUEL AMSTELE

Out of the most important and the few friends and work which include the training of teachers in the country, because of the fact that education has been given a high priority in the government's development plan. The Ministry of Education, therefore, considered necessary to train teachers in this field. Teachers' training schools have been established in several cities, and training colleges have been opened in Kabul and other cities.

A Forward Step

The Ministry of Education has taken the initiative to establish a training college in Kabul with the help of the World Bank, economic cooperation, and the existing relationships between the two countries. The college was established in 1969, and the first course was conducted in 1970. The college is now under the supervision of the Ministry of Education.

The curriculum for the first year includes the study of mathematics, science, and social studies. The second year includes the study of history, geography, and general studies. The third year includes the study of English, French, and Arabic. The fourth year includes the study of Islamic studies, and the fifth year includes the study of practical training.

The college has already trained more than 500 teachers, and it aims to train more in the future. The college has also begun to offer courses for teachers who have already graduated from other institutions.

The Ministry of Education also aims to establish a training college in each province of the country. The college will have a capacity of 100 students and will offer a two-year course.

Social Problems

There are about 1,500 students in the college, and they are divided into four groups. The first group includes students who have already graduated from other institutions. The second group includes students who have completed their secondary education. The third group includes students who have completed their primary education. The fourth group includes students who have completed their primary education and have been transferred to the college.

Adenauer Visits

Paris Today

PARIS. July 5 (Bettina)—Dr. Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, arrived here by air last night for a brief visit. Dr. Adenauer will be in Paris two days.

The Westphalia-Chemie has installed a new facility in Paris for the production of chemicals. The new plant will be located in the northeastern part of Paris and will be dedicated to the production of pharmaceuticals.

His presence is also intended to demonstrate the French people that Europe is not a dead issue and that Germany is a viable partner in any European policy.

The Chancellor's talks with the French Government will also focus on the current situation in Algeria and the future of the Maghreb region.

But the two statesmen's views on the situation do not seem to have been fully clarified. Full official circles here identified the talks as 'a new, immediate change in the German-French relationship.'

EMPTY WORDS

In their speech, the main point of disagreement was the concept of the 'new Europe.' Mr. Cortez said that Pakistan is 'ineffective' in the regional and international arena.

The official position of the United States is that Pakistan is an important ally in the region, and that it plays a crucial role in maintaining stability and peace.

Referring to the Gulf War, Mr. Cortez said that Pakistan must be more proactive in dealing with regional issues.
