Atomic Arms Race Poses Danger Of Accidental War
THANT CALLS FOR HALT TO NUCLEAR TESTS

WARSAW, Sept. 1, (Reuter).—U Thant, the acting Secretary-General, said yesterday the atomic arms race posed an “ever present” danger of accidental war and criticized the “hair-splitting” that prevented agreement on a halt to nuclear testing.

“We must expend all our energies to put an end to these tests.”

He said in an address at the University of Warsaw.

“In Teheran

KABUL, Sept. 1.—Sardar Mohammad Nazir, Minister of Foreign Affairs, arrived in Teheran on a three-day official visit to discuss the possibility of the two countries developing closer relations. He was welcomed at the airport by the规格, the Iranian Minister of Foreign Affairs and representative of the court, some officials of the Ministry of External Affairs and the Afghan Ambassador together with some Embassy staff at Teheran.

Nkrumah May Not Attend London Premiers’ Talks

ACCRA, Sept. 1, (Reuters).—President Nkrumah is unlikely to attend the Commonwealth Prime Ministers’ conference in London next month, although no final decision has yet been made. He would be able to attend if the conference were held at a later time.

Sources close to the President said that he would attend if the conference were held at a later date.

The name of the leader of the delegation in the absence of the President is expected to be announced in a day or two, the sources added.

Political circles here feel that the President may make some personal changes in the Cabinet in the near future.

The President is expected to be announced in a day or two, the sources added.

U Thant said his Polish audience were “a sad commentary on the situation of the world today that means for the extermination of the human species in the hands of the three or four great Powers.”

U Thant told his audience that it was “a sad commentary on the situation of the world today that means for the extermination of the human species in the hands of the three or four great Powers.”

In the course of his speech, he said many of the victims of war would be in a position to inflict incalculable destruction on the rest of mankind.

There is still another hazard that is menacing the world, he said, quoting the statement of some people who were the main sources of weapons of mass destruction.

The seven-member Committee on Portuguese territories under Portuguese administration recommended that the Assembly should adopt measures to ensure Portugal’s compliance with the U.N. Charter and the appropriate Assembly resolutions as well as with the Committee’s recommendations.

Portugal, which has been described as “beating a drum” to suppress the people of Angola and Mozambique, has requested the Portuguese authorities to consider and adopt the recommendations of the Assembly.

It recommended that the Assembly, which meets on September 15, should consider and adopt

HOMAGE TO LATE KABUL, Sept. 1.—The heads of the delegations of the Soviet and Indian artists who had come to Kabul to perform during the 30th Session of the International Week of Art, in memory of the late King Mohammad Nadir Shah.

The Special Committee on South-West Africa yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution calling for “a resolute action” by the U.N. to take control of the territories from South Africa.

The report now goes to the General Assembly which is due to resume debate next week after the summer recess.

The radio warned: “Blood will be shed this afternoon in the Caxias, Sidi Ali, Belait of, Oranville, and Biruna.

It added: “Shut your doors and your shops. Come down into the streets to demonstrate against this coup de force.”

Meanwhile, crowds gathered around the Algerian central police and Government square shouting “seven years of fighting is enough.”

Demonstrations were also reported from all over the Algerian region, where small groups of people were seen waving green and white Algerian flags and shouting for peace.

Schröder’s Comment ROME, Sept. 1, (Reuters).—Dr. Gerhard Schröder, West German Foreign Minister, said on Thursday a conference of the big Four Western Foreign Ministers would probably be held this autumn only if the UN General Assembly scheduled a debate on Germany and Berlin.

In an interview with the West German agency he said that so long as he did not get about the basic aspirations of the people and that he had not brought about a discontinuance of such assistance measures aimed at the immediate and a complete embargo on further sales and supplies of such weapons.

Portuguese sources here despaired of the report as “outrageous,” and said it did “no reflect the least of the realities of the situation in Portuguese Africa.” Protagol contends that her African territories are provinces of a metropoli talan State, and as such no business of the U.N.

The report said reform which Portugal claimed to have introduced in the territories did not meet the basic aspirations of the people and had not brought about

Khruschev has No Plans to Attend U.N. Session, Says Thant

Khruschev has no plans to attend the U.N. General Assembly this month, according to a statement made by the Egyptian Foreign Ministry.

Khruschev's absence was expected, as he has been busy with other international commitments, including the Warsaw Pact meeting in Belgrade.

The Egyptian Foreign Ministry said that Khruschev would not attend any international meetings during the month of September, including the U.N. General Assembly.

Khruschev's absence from the U.N. General Assembly is significant, as he is a key figure in the international community and his presence at the assembly could have helped to advance the interests of the Soviet Union.

In the absence of Khruschev, the Soviet Union has been represented at the U.N. by its ambassador to the United Nations, Vitaly Churkin.

Churkin has been active at the assembly, highlighting the importance of the Soviet Union's role in the international community.

Despite Khruschev's absence, the U.N. General Assembly is expected to discuss important issues, including the situation in the Middle East and the role of the United Nations in the maintenance of international peace and security.

The assembly is also expected to discuss the role of the United Nations in the promotion of human rights and the protection of the environment.

In conclusion, Khruschev's absence from the U.N. General Assembly is significant, as it highlights the importance of the role of the United Nations in the maintenance of international peace and security.

It also highlights the importance of the role of the United Nations in the promotion of human rights and the protection of the environment.

The assembly is expected to discuss these and other important issues, including the situation in the Middle East.

Despite Khruschev's absence, the United Nations is expected to continue to play a significant role in the international community.

The United Nations is expected to continue to play a significant role in the international community, promoting peace and security, protecting human rights, and promoting the protection of the environment.
West Rejects Plan For Unpoliced Moratorium On Underground Tests

WestERN DRAFT TREATIES ON NUCLEAR TESTS

JAKARTA, Sept. 1 (UPI)—Opposition to the Dutch plan for a nuclear test moratorium was expressed by the Indonesian government here today.

"No matter what item is on the agenda," Mr. Gusah said. "It is our duty to address the Indonesian people on the whole question of underground testing."

The Indonesian delegate, Mr. Minasian, told the conference that Indonesia's position had not been changed.

"We are still studying the problem," Mr. Minasian said. "We are still working to understand the problem and the conditions."
