TALKS TO BE CONTINUED IN NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (Reuter)—Mr. Anasits Mikoyan, the Soviet Premier, will stop in New York tonight on his way to Havana, the State Department announced yesterday.

The State Department spokesperson said there were no plans for any meeting with Secretary of State Dulles.

A report from Mr. Mikoyan would be travelling to Havana on Tuesday.

A report from the Soviet authorities had the U.S. Government for co-operation in finding the flight by the Soviet Deputy Prime Minister from Moscow to Havana with a one-day stop-over in New York.

Mr. Mikoyan was informed that the U.S. would leave Moscow today and would travel by Soviet aircraft.

He would have the ride on this morning and evening and would arrive in New York for Havana the following day.

President Kennedy told newsmen in Washington, D.C., that the United States had information showing the Soviet Union was removing medium-range nuclear missiles from Cuba. He said the U.S. government was confident in the accuracy of the intelligence, which was obtained from aerial photographs taken over the island. The president announced that his administration would make every effort to avoid war, but that a peaceful resolution was possible if the Soviet missiles were removed from Cuba.
