In China, the Chinese defense minister said that China cannot again be "the victim of the world's games." Chinese policy was also reflected in a message from the Cuban Embassy in Beijing to the Chinese Embassy in Havana, which was published in the Chinese newspaper "People's Daily." The message was a response to the latest developments in the Middle East. The Chinese government also announced new restrictions on the export of three types of military equipment. This move is seen as a response to the US decision to supply arms to the Middle East, which could exacerbate the tensions in the region.

In Moscow, the Soviet government has decided to produce a new weapon system that could seriously undermine the US ballistic missile defense system. The US has already expressed concern about the potential impact of this new system. The Chinese government also announced new restrictions on the export of three types of military equipment. This move is seen as a response to the US decision to supply arms to the Middle East, which could exacerbate the tensions in the region.

In the Middle East, the Israeli government has announced the construction of a new settlement in the occupied territories. This decision is expected to spark increased tensions in the region, as the international community has long called for a freeze on settlement construction. The US has also expressed concern about the potential impact of this decision on the US-Middle East peace process.

In the US, the US government has announced a new round of sanctions against Iran. This move is seen as a response to the Iranian government's continued support for terrorism and its failure to comply with international nuclear non-proliferation agreements. The US has also expressed concern about the potential impact of this decision on the US-Iran nuclear talks.

Mikoyan-Castro Talks

U.S.A. Repeats Demand For On-Site Inspection Of Underground Tests

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP) — Mr. Arthur Dean, U.S. chief delegate of the Geneva disarmament talks, and last year's atomic test ban treaty, said the U.S. was demanding the right to conduct inspections of nuclear earth shipments.

Dean spoke at a press conference in General Assembly's main political arena today. He had said he was repeating the U.S. position on the issue.

The U.S. position is that inspections should be conducted on-site by U.S. scientists, without the U.S. being present.

KARS, Nov. 6. (AP) — Mr. Mikoyan, leader of the Russian peace delegation, said that without the U.S. being present, inspections would be meaningless.

Dean said that if the U.S. was not present, it would be impossible to ensure that inspections were conducted on-site.
