Disarmament
Urgent Task Of All Peoples, Says GDR

PARIS, Dec. 4. (AP)—They are out to establish a zone of total and complete disarmament before the year is out. The governments of all the nations of the world must make a joint declaration to this effect.

"The time has come for a peaceful solution of all problems," said GDR Foreign Minister Walter Ulbricht. "We must not allow the situation to degenerate into a state of tension.

"The present situation is unacceptable. It is time for all nations to come together in a spirit of cooperation and understanding.

The governments of all the nations of the world must make a joint declaration to this effect."

Decade Of International Law:
THE PRESS AND RADIO
AT A GLANCE

I think the Legal Commission has made a long way up to the principles of international law. It has now reached a level where the work has been autonomously supported in many countries. This is the reason why interest in the work of the Commission has been growing year by year. The principles of international law, which have been developed in the past 50 years, are now being applied in practice in many parts of the world, and there is no basis of any political and the United Nations, which has been established in 1945, will also play an important role in this law. However, there are also cases in which we do not fully understand the principles, and that is the reason why the work of the Commission is so important.

I wanted to know whether the International Law Commission had been effective in its work, but rather as follows, because of the fact that the fact is in the interests of the nations, according to the information which I have obtained from the Commission, it is clear that from the same amount of evidence and the enterprise, it is not necessary to specify the Standard of the Standard of the Standard of the Standard of the Standard. The new resolution, which is to become effective, will be based on the principle that it is the responsibility of the nations to maintain the present order and to add the present order in the world.

The revolution which has come to the world today is due to the widespread and significant development of the world. And it is hoped that the new resolution will be used to maintain the present order in the world.

The British government yesterday reaffirmed its pledge to solve the financial woes of the United States and to prevent further capital flight.

The government also announced that it will not be able to meet its financial obligations until January 1, 1963.

In a statement to the Commons, Finance Minister, Mr. Adam Smith, said: "We cannot meet the obligations of the United States until January 1, 1963." He added that the government is now seeking ways to raise additional funds, including the sale of shares in public companies.

Mr. Smith said that the government will continue to work closely with the United States to find solutions to the financial problem.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS

DECISION TODAY

The West German Social Democrats are to decide today on a policy statement concerning the role of the United States in the world.

The decision will be taken in a meeting of the Social Democrats' federal executive council and will be based on the findings of a commission set up last year to examine the role of the United States in the world.

The commission was chaired by Dr. Konrad Adenauer, the former West German chancellor, and included representatives of the Christian Democrats and the Social Democrats.

The commission's report, which is expected to be presented today, will form the basis of the social democrats' decision.

In a statement to the media, Dr. Adenauer said: "We will strive to maintain friendly relations with the United States, but we will not allow ourselves to be dictated to by their policies.

The social democrats will decide whether to support the United States' policies in the world or to pursue a more independent course.

In addition to the commission's report, the social democrats will also consider other factors, including their own political goals and the interests of the German people.

The decision is expected to be announced in a press conference later today.
