United Nations, New York, Dec. 27, (AP) -- Mr. Abdul Rahman, Adenauer's spokesman, said that the German Chancellor had not been present at the conference to discuss the Middle East, the Premier of the Federal Republic of Germany pointed out in a brief speech at the opening of the conference that the Middle East was a vital area for the German policy of integration, and that it was a problem which had to be solved in the context of the general framework of the United Nations.

Mr. Adenauer, who was accompanied by his foreign minister, Dr. Konrad Adenauer, and his finance minister, Dr. Hans Conrad Schmidt, spoke at the opening of the conference, which is to be attended by some 200 delegates from 60 countries, including the United States, France, Britain, Russia, and China.

Mr. Adenauer's speech was interrupted by applause from the audience, which included many prominent political figures, including the United States President, Mrs. Eisenhower, and the British Prime Minister, Mr. Harold Wilson.

Mr. Adenauer's speech was followed by a statement from the UN Secretary-General, Mr. U Thant, who said that the conference was an important step in the search for a just and lasting solution to the problem of the Middle East.

Plot To Overthrow Tunisian State Discovored

Several people have been arrested in connection with a plot against the Tunisian State, state media said on Monday.

The plot involved an attempt to overthrow the government, state news agency said.

Red Crescent To Organize Emergency Conference For Preparation Of Operational Manual

KABUL, Dec. 31 (AP)—The Red Crescent is organizing an emergency conference for the preparation of an operational manual.

The conference will be held in Kabul and will be attended by representatives from various organizations.

The manual will provide guidelines for the operations of the Red Crescent during emergency situations.

French Nuclear Deterrent Plan Progressing Favably

PARIS, Dec. 30 (Reuters)—The French government has approved a plan for the construction of a French nuclear deterrent force under the President of the Plan 850 to 1986.

The plan, which will be financed by the French government, calls for the construction of a nuclear deterrent force consisting of four submarines and a fleet of nuclear missiles.

The submarines will be equipped with nuclear missiles, which will be launched from underwater.

U.S. Nuclear Powered Missiles and Electrical Faults

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—The U.S. Department of Defense has decided to delay the deployment of the nuclear-powered missiles due to electrical faults.

The missiles, which were to be deployed as part of the U.S. nuclear deterrence, have been delayed due to technical issues.

Super-Detecting U.S. Device Might Solve Problem Of U.S. Nuclear Test Inspection

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—A super-detecting device, which might solve the problem of U.S. nuclear test inspection, has been developed by the U.S. government.

The device, which is not yet operational, will be tested in the United States to verify its effectiveness.

The development of the device is part of the U.S. government's efforts to increase its nuclear testing capabilities.

In the image, a page from a newspaper is shown, with the headline "Swimming Girl" and a story about an attempted coup in Tunisia. The page also contains several other stories, including news about the French nuclear deterrent plan and developments in the U.S. nuclear test inspection program.
