The Faculty of Pharmacy

Pharmacy is considered an essential discipline generally as a field of specialization of the sciences. It is a field of study for the development and implementation of various medications and medicinal products.

It is important to note that the curriculum of Pharmacy at the University of Kabul includes a comprehensive study of the history of pharmacy, the development of drug therapy, and the application of pharmaceutical research.

In the advanced countries, university curricula have been developed by experts in the field of pharmacy and medicinal chemistry.

Thesis and practices are conducted by experts in the field of pharmacy and medicinal chemistry.

In order to train professional pharmacists, the emphasis is on the integration of theoretical knowledge with practical skills.

We should commend the efforts of the Kabul University Faculty of Pharmacy in providing a comprehensive curriculum that prepares students for a successful career in the field of pharmacy.
Atoms Visual Programme

Audio Visual Department of the Ministry of Education has produced during recent years 200 films and 600 filmstrips which have been shown in various parts of the country by the mobile cinema units of the department. These films and filmstrips are for educational purposes such as social, ethical, educational, technical, economic, political, cultural, scientific, and health as well. They are in Polish, Russian, English, French, and German.

An official of the department has said that 20,000 films were shown in 1953 and 19,000 in 1954. The activity is to increase steadily. A number of sites are to be taken over for the production of our own films.

Thursday's Call For True Democracy

TOKIO, Dec. 30, (Reuters)—Japans Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, according to an official announcement, issued a call yesterday for "true democracy," which he described as "speaking out against the influence of the army and the police." The call was made in connection with the recent events in Japan, where the government has been accused of corruption and abuse of power.

Domestic Rebels Flee After Clashes With Police

About 50 rebels have fled into the mountains interior after local police and army forces entered the area.

We Cannot Leave Our Aden Brethren

We support the struggle of the Aden people for freedom and independence from British imperialism. The fight for national liberation is a noble cause, and we shall not stand idle while our brothers suffer under the yoke of colonialism.
