Tshombe Agrees To Go To Elisabethville
Demands Complete Freedom Of Movement

LEOPOLDVILLE, Jan. 1 (AP)—Dr. Col. Joseph K. Tshombe of Katanga, President of the United Congo and the Basa, has formally agreed to go to Elisabethville on Monday to meet with the United Nations' Secretary General, U Thant, in order to bring the congo crisis to a peaceful settlement.

Dr. Tshombe said in a statement today: "I have agreed to go to Elisabethville for talks with the United Nations' Secretary General, U Thant, to seek a peaceful settlement of the present conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo."

'This is not a so-called "cease fire" but a request by the United Nations' Secretary General for a peaceful solution to the conflict."

Dr. Tshombe said that he would also try to bring about a peaceful solution to the conflict and that "if the United Nations' Secretary General agrees, I will go to Elisabethville to meet with him and try to work out a peaceful solution to the conflict."
After The Downfall of Tshombe

BY WARREN THESING

President Tshombe of Katanga, who has been forced out of power, announced yesterday that he would accept the United Nations' demand for a cease-fire. It was because the United Nations had decided to end the fighting in Katanga and had sent the United Nations' Special Committee of Inquiry.

The Committee of Inquiry, which was established in December, was charged with investigating the situation in Katanga. It was at this meeting that Mr. Tshombe announced that he would accept the United Nations' demand for a cease-fire. He also said that he would accept the United Nations' recommendation that the election of a new President be held in Katanga.

Mr. Tshombe's announcement came as a surprise to many people, who had not expected him to accept the United Nations' demands. However, he said that he was willing to accept the United Nations' recommendations, as long as they were fair and just.

The United Nations has been in the process of trying to bring an end to the fighting in Katanga for several months. The situation in the province has been very violent, with many people killed and injured.

Mr. Tshombe's announcement is a significant development in the situation in Katanga. It is hoped that this will lead to a peaceful resolution of the conflict.

TSHOMBE APPEARS IN RURAL AREA

Kabul, the capital of Afghanistan, was the scene of a spectacular event yesterday when President Tshombe appeared in a rural area.

The President, who was accompanied by a large entourage, was seen walking through the countryside, where he was greeted by thousands of people. He was heard to say that he was determined to bring peace to the country.

Tshombe, who has been in power for several years, is facing a number of challenges. The country is suffering from a severe economic crisis, and there is a great deal of unrest among the people.

The President's appearance in the rural area was seen as a sign of his determination to bring peace to the country. The people were seen to be very enthusiastic about the event, and many were seen to be crying tears of joy.

Britain Strengthens Nuclear - Striking Power

Britain's leaders have been discussing possible atomic strikes in the Middle East with British officials in foreign capitals. The situation is for the moment calm, but much depends on the events in the Middle East, and the people's attitude toward the possession of a bomb. Britain has no atomic bomb, but it is considered a powerful weapon. In the current situation, the United States and Britain are the only nuclear powers in the Middle East.
