Export, The Largest Source To Meet Development Costs

By YUSEFPZ

Exports are a good example for our production capacity. Many changes in our social and economic conditions are dependent on the development of production and sales of our products. The producer of each product, whether in a small or large scale, is the main source of income for the nation. If we are to meet the needs of our population and the world market, we must increase production and trade. The principle of self-sufficiency is the most important demand. Our aim is to develop the economy and make it stronger. The government and the people must work together to achieve this goal.

Similarly, foreign trade is an important tool for us. It helps us to meet the needs of the population and to develop the economy. The government must ensure a stable and strong foreign trade. In order to meet the consequences of the war, more than the needs of new institutions in Europe. But the rest of the world is also interested in the new-established countries that are emerging. The importance of the developing market is very clear. It is a very important source of income for the country.

Nonetheless, the U.S. dollar price of various products and the use of foreign currency in the economy have increased. The prices of primary products and the exchange rate have increased due to inflation. Over the past few years, there have been a lot of changes in the world. The increase in the price of oil has had a major impact on our economy.-tooltip: The price of oil has increased and the inflation rate has also increased. This has led to an increase in the price of all products and services. The price of oil has increased significantly due to the war.

In conclusion, we can say that the situation in Japan is improving. The international trade is increasing and the country is becoming more open to foreign investment. The government is making efforts to improve the economy and to attract foreign investment. The government is also trying to improve the infrastructure and to provide a better environment for business.

French Footballers May Strike

PARIS, Feb. 8 (AP)—French soccer players will not try to forestall a strike called by the Confédération Générale du Sport, which represents 90 percent of France’s professional soccer clubs. Mr. Jean-Pierre Delarue, the Union's President, has been asked to meet with the players on Wednesday to discuss prospects for ending the dispute.

The union is demanding a contract for all French soccer players, with their wages paid in advance. The government is currently negotiating a new contract for the players, but the union is pressing for immediate action.

The strike is expected to begin on March 1 and could last for several weeks. The French soccer season is set to begin on March 20, and the strike could have a significant impact on the upcoming season.

CHINA SEeks Peaceful Settlement of Border Dispute

BEIJING, Feb. 8 (AP)—China announced it would seek a peaceful settlement of its争端 (dispute) with India over the border and military tension in the area.

Chinese Premier Zhou Enlai said in a statement that his government wanted to resolve the dispute through peaceful means. The tension in the area had been escalating for several weeks, with both countries increasing their military presence near the disputed border.

The statement by Zhou Enlai was seen as a significant shift in China's stance on the dispute, as it had previously remained silent on the issue.

Double Defeat For Diefenbaker

OTTAWA, Feb. 8 (CP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker suffered a double setback in Parliament yesterday, losing both a confidence vote and a supply vote. The government was defeated on a motion of confidence proposed by the opposition parties, and on a motion to limit the number of days the government could introduce bills in the House of Commons.

The government's defeat came as a surprise, as Diefenbaker had previously been expected to win both votes. The opposition parties had been criticizeing the government's policies, and the public was becoming increasingly dissatisfied with the government's performance.

The government plans to seek a dissolution of Parliament and an early election, which could take place as early as April.

Relief for Palestine

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) has announced plans to provide assistance to Palestinian refugees in the Middle East. The UNRRA has been working to help Palestinian refugees who have been displaced by the Arab-Israeli conflict.

The announcement by the UNRRA is seen as a positive step towards alleviating the suffering of Palestinian refugees, who have been living in difficult conditions for years.

Kabul-Kandahar Road Construction Progress

Kabul, Feb. 8 (AP)—The first part of the Kabul-Kandahar road is scheduled to be completed by the end of the year. The road is expected to be one of the most important infrastructure projects in Afghanistan, as it will connect the capital city of Kabul with the southern province of Kandahar.

The road is also expected to boost economic development in the region, as it will facilitate trade and transport between the two provinces.

Challenges for Diefenbaker

OTTAWA, Feb. 8 (CP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker faces several challenges in the upcoming year. The government's popularity has been declining, as the public is becoming increasingly dissatisfied with the government's policies.

Diefenbaker is also facing pressure from within his own party, as some members are calling for his resignation. The government plans to seek a dissolution of Parliament and an early election, which could take place as early as April.

The government's defeat comes at a time when the country is facing a severe shortage of food and fuel, and the economy is struggling.
