A VISIT TO INDIA

Mr. Shashikant, the vice-president of the Indian Mission to UNESCO, recently paid a visit to Vienna where he had a good opportunity to study the post-World War II recovery programme of the United Nations and its various subsidiary organs. His visit was of particular interest to him as he had been associated with the United Nations for many years and was in a position to see the progress made by the United Nations in the post-war years. Mr. Shashikant visited the headquarters of the United Nations in Vienna and also the various subsidiary organs of the United Nations, including the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). He was particularly impressed by the work of UNESCO in the field of education and cultural exchange.

Yesterday’s high court in Ottawa ruled that the postal union of the United States and Canada was unconstitutional. The court was asked to rule on the constitutionality of the postal union, which has been in existence since 1861. The court ruled that the postal union was unconstitutional because it provided for the transfer of mail from one country to another without the consent of the mail sender.

The court also ruled that the postal union violated the principle of federalism because it gave the United States Postal Service too much power over the Canadian postal system.

The postal union has been a source of dispute between the United States and Canada for many years. The court’s ruling is likely to lead to further legal challenges to the postal union.

U.N. CONFERENCE ON DEVELOPMENT AID

The United Nations Conference on Development Aid (CODA), which opened its sessions in Vienna, is one of the most important gatherings of the United Nations. It is also one of the most important gatherings of the world’s leaders. The conference aims to develop new strategies for the world’s development and to find new ways for a world-wide development strategy.

The conference is being held in Vienna, the headquarters of the United Nations, and is attended by representatives from all over the world. The conference is expected to last for several weeks and will be followed by the annual meetings of the United Nations.

A German armament contractor has revealed plans for a new generation of nuclear weapons. The contractor, which is based in Munich, has been working on the development of a new nuclear weapon for several years and has now announced that a prototype of the new weapon is complete.

The new weapon is expected to be more powerful than any weapon currently in use and will be capable of destroying a city. It is also expected to be more accurate and reliable than existing weapons.

The German contractor has said that the new weapon is intended as a deterrent and will be used only as a last resort. The contractor has also said that it will be used only in a situation where there is a real threat of a nuclear attack.

The German government has said that it will not use the new weapon unless it is absolutely necessary and only as a last resort. The government has also said that it will not use the new weapon unless it is certain that it will be effective.

The German government has also said that it will not use the new weapon unless it is certain that it will not result in a nuclear war. The government has also said that it will not use the new weapon unless it is certain that it will not result in a nuclear holocaust.

The German government has also said that it will not use the new weapon unless it is certain that it will not result in a nuclear disaster. The government has also said that it will not use the new weapon unless it is certain that it will not result in a nuclear catastrophe.

Paris, Feb. 3.-De Gaulle admitted last night that the Olympic Games were becoming a serious event, and he said that France would take part in Moscow, which is going to be needed. He was also discussing the question of international nuclear force with the leaders of France and her other five PIC Games are scattered in the world. But the Secretary-General added that there was no more to this than was represented by the fact that the French President had added that he was completely satisfied with the present agreements of the United Nations.

At the same time, the American and British leaders of West Germany after the meeting with the American President. President Johnson arrived in Washington yesterday.
