RECOGNITION OF AFGHANISTAN

By WARREN

The fact remains that the Soviet Union, as well as other Communist countries, has not recognized Afghanistan. It is true that the United States and the United Kingdom have recognized Afghanistan, but this is due to the fact that the United States and the United Kingdom have not recognized the Soviet Union. The United States and the United Kingdom have not recognized the Soviet Union because they believe that the Soviet Union is a threat to world peace. The United States and the United Kingdom have not recognized the Soviet Union because they believe that the Soviet Union is a threat to the United States and the United Kingdom. Memorandum To Geneva Meeting

SIR—We have been informed of a new proposal appearing in the European press which the Government is planning to make to its Communist neighbors in an attempt to solve the nuclear war problem.

The new proposal is that the United States and the Soviet Union should sign a joint agreement to establish a nuclear-free zone in Europe. The aim of this zone would be to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and to promote peaceful coexistence.

You will recall that similar proposals have been made in the past, but this one is different in that it includes a provision for the withdrawal of all foreign forces from the zone after a period of time.

The London National of June 13th, commenting on the new proposal, said:

"It is a step in the right direction, but it will be a long way from the end."

It is to be hoped that the United States and the Soviet Union will give serious consideration to this proposal and that it will lead to further steps in the direction of disarmament.

Yours sincerely,
