U.S. TO INSIST: ON TEST BAN WITH INSPECTIONS
Kennedy Says Negotiations With Soviets On Test Ban To Go Long Way
WASHINGTON, Mar. 1. (AP) — President Kennedy said Wednesday that he was not satisfied with the rate of Soviet progress toward a test ban agreement. In a speech to the U.S. Congress, Kennedy said that the Soviets had been slow in responding to the U.S. proposals and that the rate of progress was not satisfactory. He also said that the U.S. would continue to negotiate with the Soviets on the test ban.

U.S. Not Satisfied
With Test Ban
Withdrawal

Indian Foreign Minister Subramaniyaswami
P. Menon, a key negotiator for India, said yesterday that India was not satisfied with the progress of the test ban negotiations. He said that India had made a number of proposals to the U.S. and had been willing to accept a test ban that would be verifiable by the U.S. However, Menon said that India was not satisfied with the rate at which the U.S. was responding to these proposals.

Soviet-U.S. Talks

The talks between the U.S. and the Soviet Union on a test ban have been going on for several months. The U.S. has been pushing for a verifiable test ban, while the Soviet Union has been slow to respond. The talks have been taking place in Geneva, Switzerland.

India's stance on the test ban is important because India has a nuclear program and has tested nuclear weapons. India has been pushing for a non-proliferation treaty that would prevent other countries from developing nuclear weapons.

The test ban talks are a key issue in the relationship between the U.S. and the Soviet Union. The test ban is seen as a way to reduce the risk of nuclear war and to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.
