Today's Special

MOSCOW, June 15 (Special)

The Soviet Union has agreed to extend the moratorium on reparations payments for two months. This agreement was announced by the President of the Soviet Union, Mr. Khrushchev, who said that the extension would enable the United Nations to resume its work.

American Reaction to Soviet Woman Being First In Space

The United States has welcomed the announcement by the Soviet Union that a woman astronaut has been selected for a space mission.

The White House statement said that the United States was pleased with the news and that it would be carefully followed. The statement said that the United States was committed to supporting the development of space exploration and that it would continue to work with the Soviet Union on this issue.

Meanwhile, the United States has said that it will not participate in any future space missions unless the Soviet Union agrees to share its technology.

The United States has also expressed concern over the safety of the Soviet astronaut and has called for international cooperation in the development of space technologies.

The statement said that the United States would continue to work with other countries to ensure the safety of the Soviet astronaut and to promote international cooperation in space exploration.

The United States has also said that it will continue to support the development of space technologies and that it will work with the Soviet Union and other countries to ensure the safety of all astronauts.
Mexican Envoy To Leave Tomorrow

KABUL, June 24.—Mr. Octavio Paz, the Mexican ambassador to Afghanistan, has been named by Premier Adalberto Garcia to return to Mexico as the new ambassador to that country. He will replace Mr. Alfonso V. Mendez, who has been named as the new ambassador to Afghanistan. Mr. Paz is expected to leave Kabul this week.

KABUL, June 24.—The Ministry of Justice has instructed the provincial authorities in Afghanistan to support the new ambassador to Mexico, Mr. Octavio Paz, who is expected to arrive in Kabul tomorrow.

KABUL, June 24.—If the United States were to extend diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, it would be possible to send a diplomat to New Delhi, it was reported here today. According to sources in the Afghan government, the United States has been considering this possibility for some time.

KABUL, June 24.—The Afghan government has decided to establish diplomatic relations with New Delhi. This decision was announced today by the Foreign Ministry.

Correction

The third paragraph of the article published in the May 25 issue of the KABUL TIMES was incorrect. It was stated that the Afghan government was not able to send a diplomat to New Delhi. The correct statement is that the Afghan government has decided to establish diplomatic relations with New Delhi.
