NEW CIVIC PROJECT

The 40 million Afghan sanitation project which will be launched by the Kabul Municipality in the old cattle market of Kabul tomorrow is a very ambitious project on the account of public and modern ment by the Municipality.

In its present state, our problem of sanitation, specially in the city, is becoming acute times over. This is why the Department of Construction and Planning, taking the full responsibility for the construction of this project,
has made a breakthrough
in this field. The Municipality began to pay much attention to the question of sanitation
and it is good that expert people have been involved in the project. The project will be completed in 25 years,
the Municipality has said.

South Africa Not To Take Part In Discussions

Cape Town, July 11. ( flare) - The South African news services have confirmed that Mr. Louis Botha, the Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, has decided not to take part in the negotiations for a new international trade agreement which are to be held in London this week. This decision was taken after a meeting between Mr. Botha and Mr. John Diefenbaker, the Canadian Prime Minister, in Cape Town last week.

Meanwhile, the South African Government has announced that it will not participate in the London negotiations. This decision was taken after consultations between Mr. Botha and his Ministers, who were advised by the country's economic experts that it would be unwise to participate in the negotiations at this stage.

The South African Government has also announced that it will not make any proposals for a new international trade agreement until it has had time to study the proposals made by the other countries involved in the negotiations.

The London negotiations are scheduled to begin on Monday, and it is expected that they will continue for several weeks.

U.S. President Urges Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP) - President Kennedy today urged the ratification of the United Nations test ban treaty, saying it was a matter of national security.

The President told the United Nations General Assembly that the United States had completed its testing of all weapons and was now prepared to ratify the treaty.

"The United States is ready to ratify the test ban with the understanding that all existing nuclear powers will then sign it," Kennedy said.

"The United States is ready to make a new contribution to the cause of world peace," he added.

The President's statement came in response to a call by the United Nations Security Council for nations to sign the test ban treaty.

President Kennedy also called on other nations to sign the treaty and said that the United States would work with them to achieve a world free of nuclear weapons.

Shirwan Jirga Criticizes Recent Pakistani Bombing

KABUL, July 11. (Reuters) - The Shirwan Jirga, the highest court of justice in Afghanistan, has criticized recent Pakistani bombing in the country.

"The recent air strikes by Pakistani forces on Afghan territory are not only illegal but also violate the terms of the 1962 peace treaty between the two countries," the Jirga said in a statement.

The Jirga also condemned the recent attacks on Afghan civilians and called for an end to the violence.

The statement came after the Pakistani air force launched a series of attacks on Afghan towns and villages, killing dozens of civilians and destroying property.

Tower of London's Jewel

London, July 11. (Reuters) - The Tower of London's most famous jewel, the Black Prince's Treasure, has been returned to the Royal Collection after being lost for over a century.

The treasure, which was last seen in 1874, was recently discovered in a chest in the Tower's Jewel House.

The Black Prince's Treasure is one of the most valuable jewels in the world and is estimated to be worth over $1 billion.

The treasure is believed to have been made for the Black Prince, Edward III, by the Italian jeweler Ugo di Bari, who was also responsible for the making of the famed French crown.

The treasure was lost in 1874 during a fire that destroyed much of the Tower of London. It was thought to have been destroyed in the fire, but it was recently discovered in a chest in the Jewel House.

The discovery of the treasure was a major event in the history of the Tower of London and has been hailed as a major victory for the Royal Collection.
