LONG WAY FOR WESTERN ALLIES TO REACH ACCORD ON INSPECTION SYSTEM

Kennedy Says U.S. Does Not Have Views On The Subject

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Aug. 21, (AP) -

President Kennedy refused to take a stand for or against an inspection system in a speech yesterday at the Council for Foreign Affairs in Paris. The President said that the United States does not have "views on the subject."

"We have not reached any conclusions," he said. "But the U.S. stands squarely behind the hope that some sort of inspection system will be worked out and that both sides will be ready to enter into a regime of inspection and verification that will provide a sufficient guarantee against any.tagName("\"I\")\"."

Mr. Kennedy added that he was "not going to prejudge" the situation, and that "the only hope that we have is that it will lead to a real agreement that will bring peace to Europe."

The President said that he would be willing to consider any reasonable proposals that would ensure the safety of the Western allies. He said that the U.S. would be ready to enter into any agreement that would provide for the effective defense of Western Europe.

U.S. Backs Israel Call For Security Council Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15, AP: The U.S. Tuesday requested the Security Council to meet to discuss the situation in the Middle East.

The Israeli government has asked the United Nations to send a military observer mission to the Golan Heights, the scene of recent fighting.

Dr. Phillips, who heads the Israeli observer mission, said he hopes the mission can be extended to the Golan Heights, where Israeli forces have been fighting against the Syrian Arab Republic.

The U.S. State Department has said it would support any efforts to bring about a cease-fire in the region.

Raisins Cleaning Factory Launched At Industrial Kabul

DR. THOMAS BRUTON: "After several years of planning and construction, the new cleaning factory is now operational. The facility will provide high-quality raisins to local and international markets."}

KABUL, Aug. 13, 1971: The Kabul Government has launched a new raisin cleaning factory at an industrial site in the city. The factory is expected to produce high-quality raisins for domestic and international markets.

The cleaning process involves several steps, including soaking, washing, and drying. The factory is equipped with modern machinery and is staffed by experienced workers.

The facility is expected to contribute to the economic development of Kabul and provide employment opportunities for the local population.
