Security Council imposes arms ban against S. Africa
Norwegian Resolution Adopted Unanimously

The United Nations Security Council unanimously adopted the resolution "political and trade sanctions against South Africa and its neighboring states, in accordance with the aim of the United Nations, of ending all forms of collaboration, economic, commercial, financial, political and other, with the South African regime". The resolution was introduced by the Norwegian Foreign Minister, Mr. Lars Blokne, in the Council's meeting held today. The resolution, which was adopted by a vote of 11 in favor and 0 against, calls upon all Member States to implement economic and other sanctions against South Africa within the framework of the United Nations. The resolution also calls upon the Security Council to report to the General Assembly at its next session on the implementation of the resolution. The resolution was supported by all Member States, including the United States, United Kingdom, France, China, and the Soviet Union. The resolution was opposed by South Africa, but it was not able to muster enough votes to prevent its adoption.

Launching or extending a national facility at the best cost to operate, the author stresses the necessity to assign a unified structure in every country, particularly the new ones, for the success of these activities. and for the success of these activities.

The Preparatory Group to the UN General Assembly had met in Kabul, and President of the United Nations, Mr. Chakravarty, told the U.N. General Assembly today that the legal code failed to lay down the needs of all mankind. Let the world recognize that, here in the light of the delegate's views, the Indian delegation would have liked the other states to take note of the Indian constitutional authority.

Mr. Chakravarty said that the United Nations, which is the main body of the international community, is a primary source of international law, international peace, and it is the duty of the international community to see that the law is not violated by any state, by any force, and to see that the law is respected by all states.

Three Man Commit Suicide In Vietnam
NO POLITICAL MOTIVE

A steady stream of people on Monday morning were seen entering the house of the late Nguyen Van Khe, a well-known public figure in Hanoi. The police said the deceased was found with a gun near his head, but there were no witnesses or evidence of a crime.

The authorities also fear that the death could lead to further unrest in the area.

Venezuelan Terror Squads
Machine-Gun Residence Of U.K. Envoy In Caracas

CARACAS, December 3, (AP-)
- A Venezuelan terror squad machine-gunned the residence of the British Ambassador to Caracas, the late William Duffield. The attack left several members of the embassy staff dead.

It is not clear who is responsible for the attack, but it is believed to be linked to a group that has been targeting foreigners in the country.

The attack is the latest in a series of incidents involving the Venezuelan government, which has been accused of supporting terrorist groups.

Christine Keeler To Serve Nine Months Prison Term

London, Dec. 3 - Christine Keeler, the British model who was at the center of the Profumo Affair, has been sentenced to nine months in prison.

The Court of Appeal in London ruled that she should serve the remaining part of her suspended sentence, which was ordered in 1963.

Keeler, who was known for her affair with Sir Anthony Eden, was convicted of perjury and perverting the course of justice.

The sentence was based on her false statements to police about her affair with Roger Stone, a government official.

The case is considered to be a major scandal in British history and has had a significant impact on the political climate at the time.
