U.S. Rejects Soviet Protest On Use Of Gas In Vietnam

The United States rejected a Soviet protest over the use of U.S. gas in Vietnam.

A Soviet note delivered on March 26 said that the United States had violated an agreement by using gas for military purposes.

The Soviet note said the United States had breached an understanding on the use of gas in Vietnam.

A spokesman for the United States said the note was "totally unfounded" and that the United States had not violated any agreement.

Thousands Greet His Majesty In Northern Cities

KABUL, March 27-The last two nights of the emperor's visit to Rawalpindi were a time of great joy and happiness in northern Pakistan.

UN Peace-Keeping Operations

It is necessary that the operations of the UN peace-keeping mission be supported by the General Assembly. The UN peace-keeping mission is an important tool for maintaining peace and security in the world. The mission must be able to act swiftly and effectively to prevent conflicts from escalating into full-scale wars.

Administrative Malaise Or Economic Crisis?

A major war was overshadowed by economic policy-making during the two years of the plan. The economy was not performing well, and the officials were struggling to make ends meet. The first year of the plan was a failure, with little output and heavy input. The second year was better, with some improvements, but the overall performance was poor. The government was unable to solve the economic crisis, and the economy remained stagnant.

Radio Afghanistan Programme

The Radio Afghanistan Programme has been expanded to reach a wider audience. The programme now includes more local content, and the number of listeners has increased. The programme is broadcast in various languages, and it is popular among the people of Afghanistan. The programme provides news, music, and entertainment, and it plays an important role in the national life of Afghanistan.

ECONOMIC CRISIS

If these trends continue, the country will face a serious economic crisis. The government must take immediate action to prevent this. The country needs a strong economic policy to ensure its stability. The government must also seek international help to solve the economic crisis.
