Close Cooperation Of All People Necessary To Carry Out Development, Says MAIWANDWAL

A remarkable example of the spirit of cooperation which unites the people of Afghanistan was demonstrated in connection with the First World Conference on Mountain Hiking, which opened in Kabul on Monday, January 25.

Mr. MAIWANDWAL, who was present at the opening ceremony, said that the people of Afghanistan were united in their desire to see the country develop. He said that the government was committed to the principle of cooperation, and that the people of the country were determined to work together to achieve this goal.

Sen. Fulbright Proposes U.S. Recognize Viet Cong; Da Nang Base Attacked As Truce Ends

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25--Vietnam peace talks which ended at Saigon Monday are likely to be followed by a new round of fighting in South Vietnam, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today.

''Now that there is no peace, it seems likely that the South Vietnamese will launch another major offensive'' in the north, the senator said.

Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Fulbright said he would propose to the Senate that the United States recognize the Viet Cong, and that a U.S. military base be established in Da Nang, South Vietnam.

Forecasts for the day predicted clear and sunny weather with temperatures in the 60s.

Britain Wants Australia To Take Larger Role In "Defence Policy East Of Suez"

Britain's Defence Minister Denis Healey has suggested that Britain and Australia share the responsibility for maintaining military forces in the Indian Ocean region and may also take part in a joint defense policy in the area. This would mean, in effect, that Britain would have to take over a larger share of the military burden that was shared between Australia and New Zealand in the past. Mr. Healey made these remarks in a speech to the Indian Ocean Defence Association in London last week. The Australian government has not yet made any public reactions to these suggestions.
