should also make sure that all pilots are well trained.

There are many countries that are not taking this issue seriously. This is a problem.

As a result few Dilpt..- have devoted enough time and effort to master this kind of art. This has been the case in recent years.

However, there are a few artists dedicated enough to this school of painting who think it is worth the time and effort required.

One such artist is Behzad Haj Mohammad school of painting. He has been painting miniature and other drawings closely followed in this school, for many years besides working as a well-known writer and poet.

Miniature paintings and calligraphies are usually called miniatures, a term which is a misnomer. However, it is widely used in this art field.
